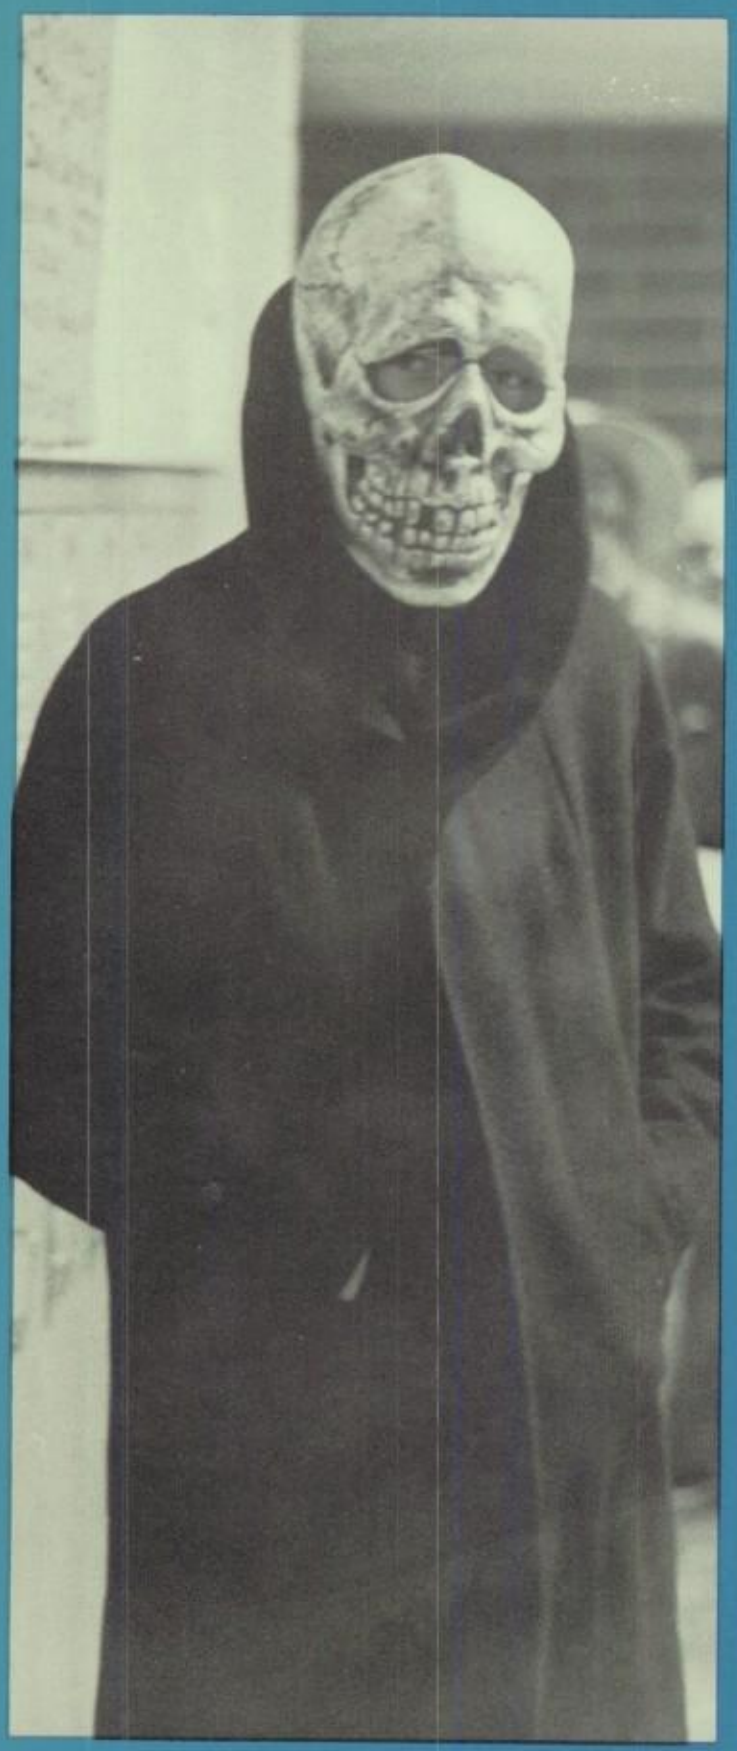
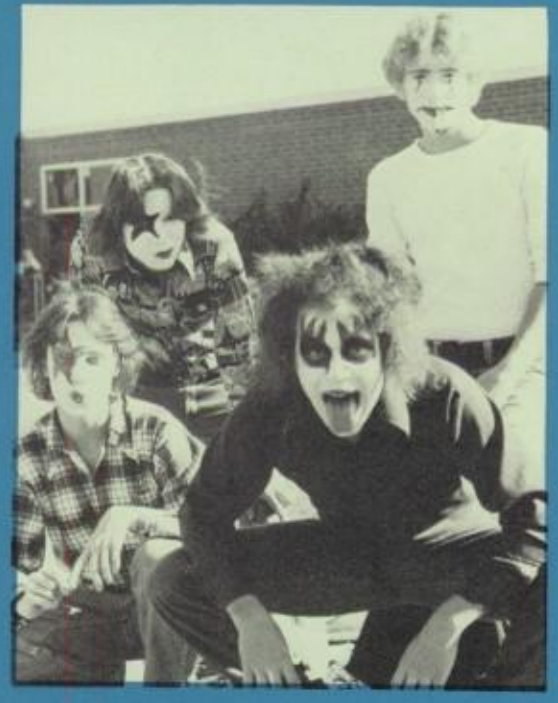
As the tradition of years goes on, we the students of Smith enjoy the tradition of Love, the Love that is

In the Course of Human Events

Life, the Life that is remembering – The Remembering of our time at Ben L. Smith High School.

Spirit days play a big part of the life of students here at Smith. There is much enthusiasm shown by the attendance present at major games and the participation of students on costume day, oldie goldie and several other spirit days.

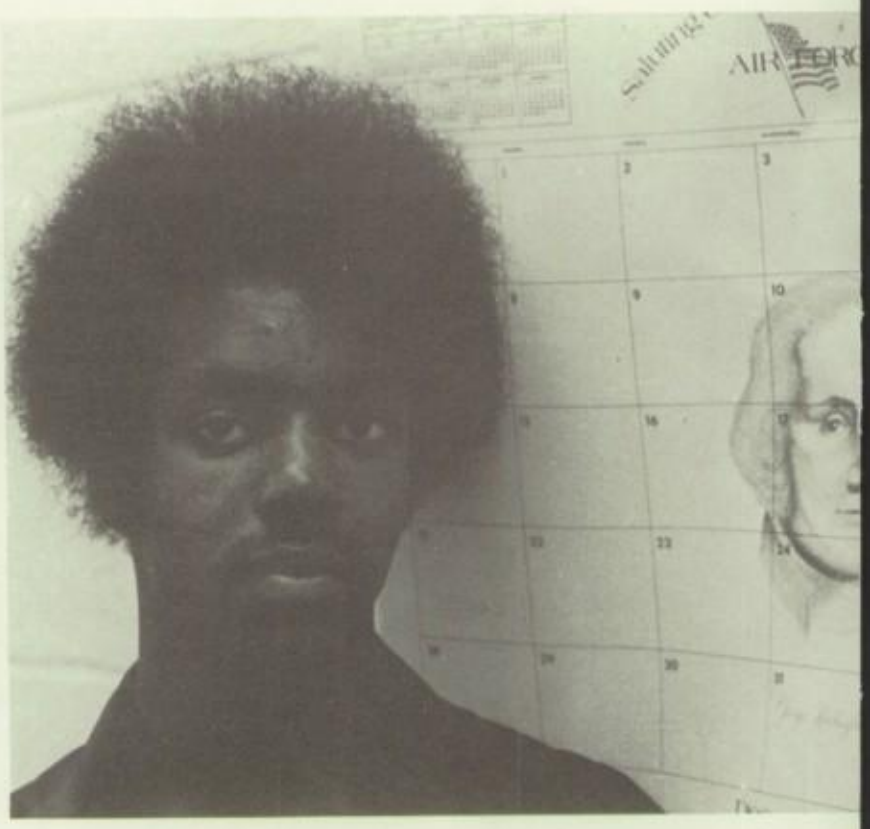


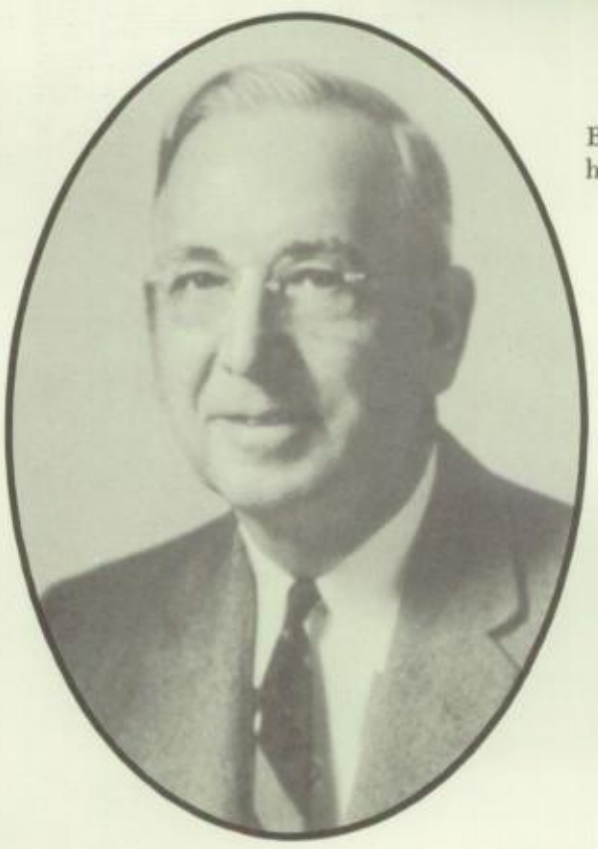


MEAN GREEN

Traditions from past to present

Construction on Ben L. Smith High was begun in 1962.





Ben L. Smith, for whom our high school was named.

From the planning of the school, to the more liberal traditions today, like men cooking, women athletics, and publicly showing affection, you see just how much traditions change over the years.

Communicating is the root of understanding. Our knowledge to understand is the Unity of Life, for we are United together while we live in a school of thought. Here we strive to bring together the love and honor of friendship without losing our own identity. By keeping our own identity we learn to enjoy the life that is set before us day by day. For each day the tree of knowledge grows while the fruit, full with ideas, broadens and spreads originality to all mankind. Through this course of human events, friendship stems from the communion of everlasting services to one another.

There is a time when nature's peacefulness flows through quiet minds like the sunset flows over the sea.

In these moments, thinking is the reality of a private place where you can visualize your thoughts in your memories.

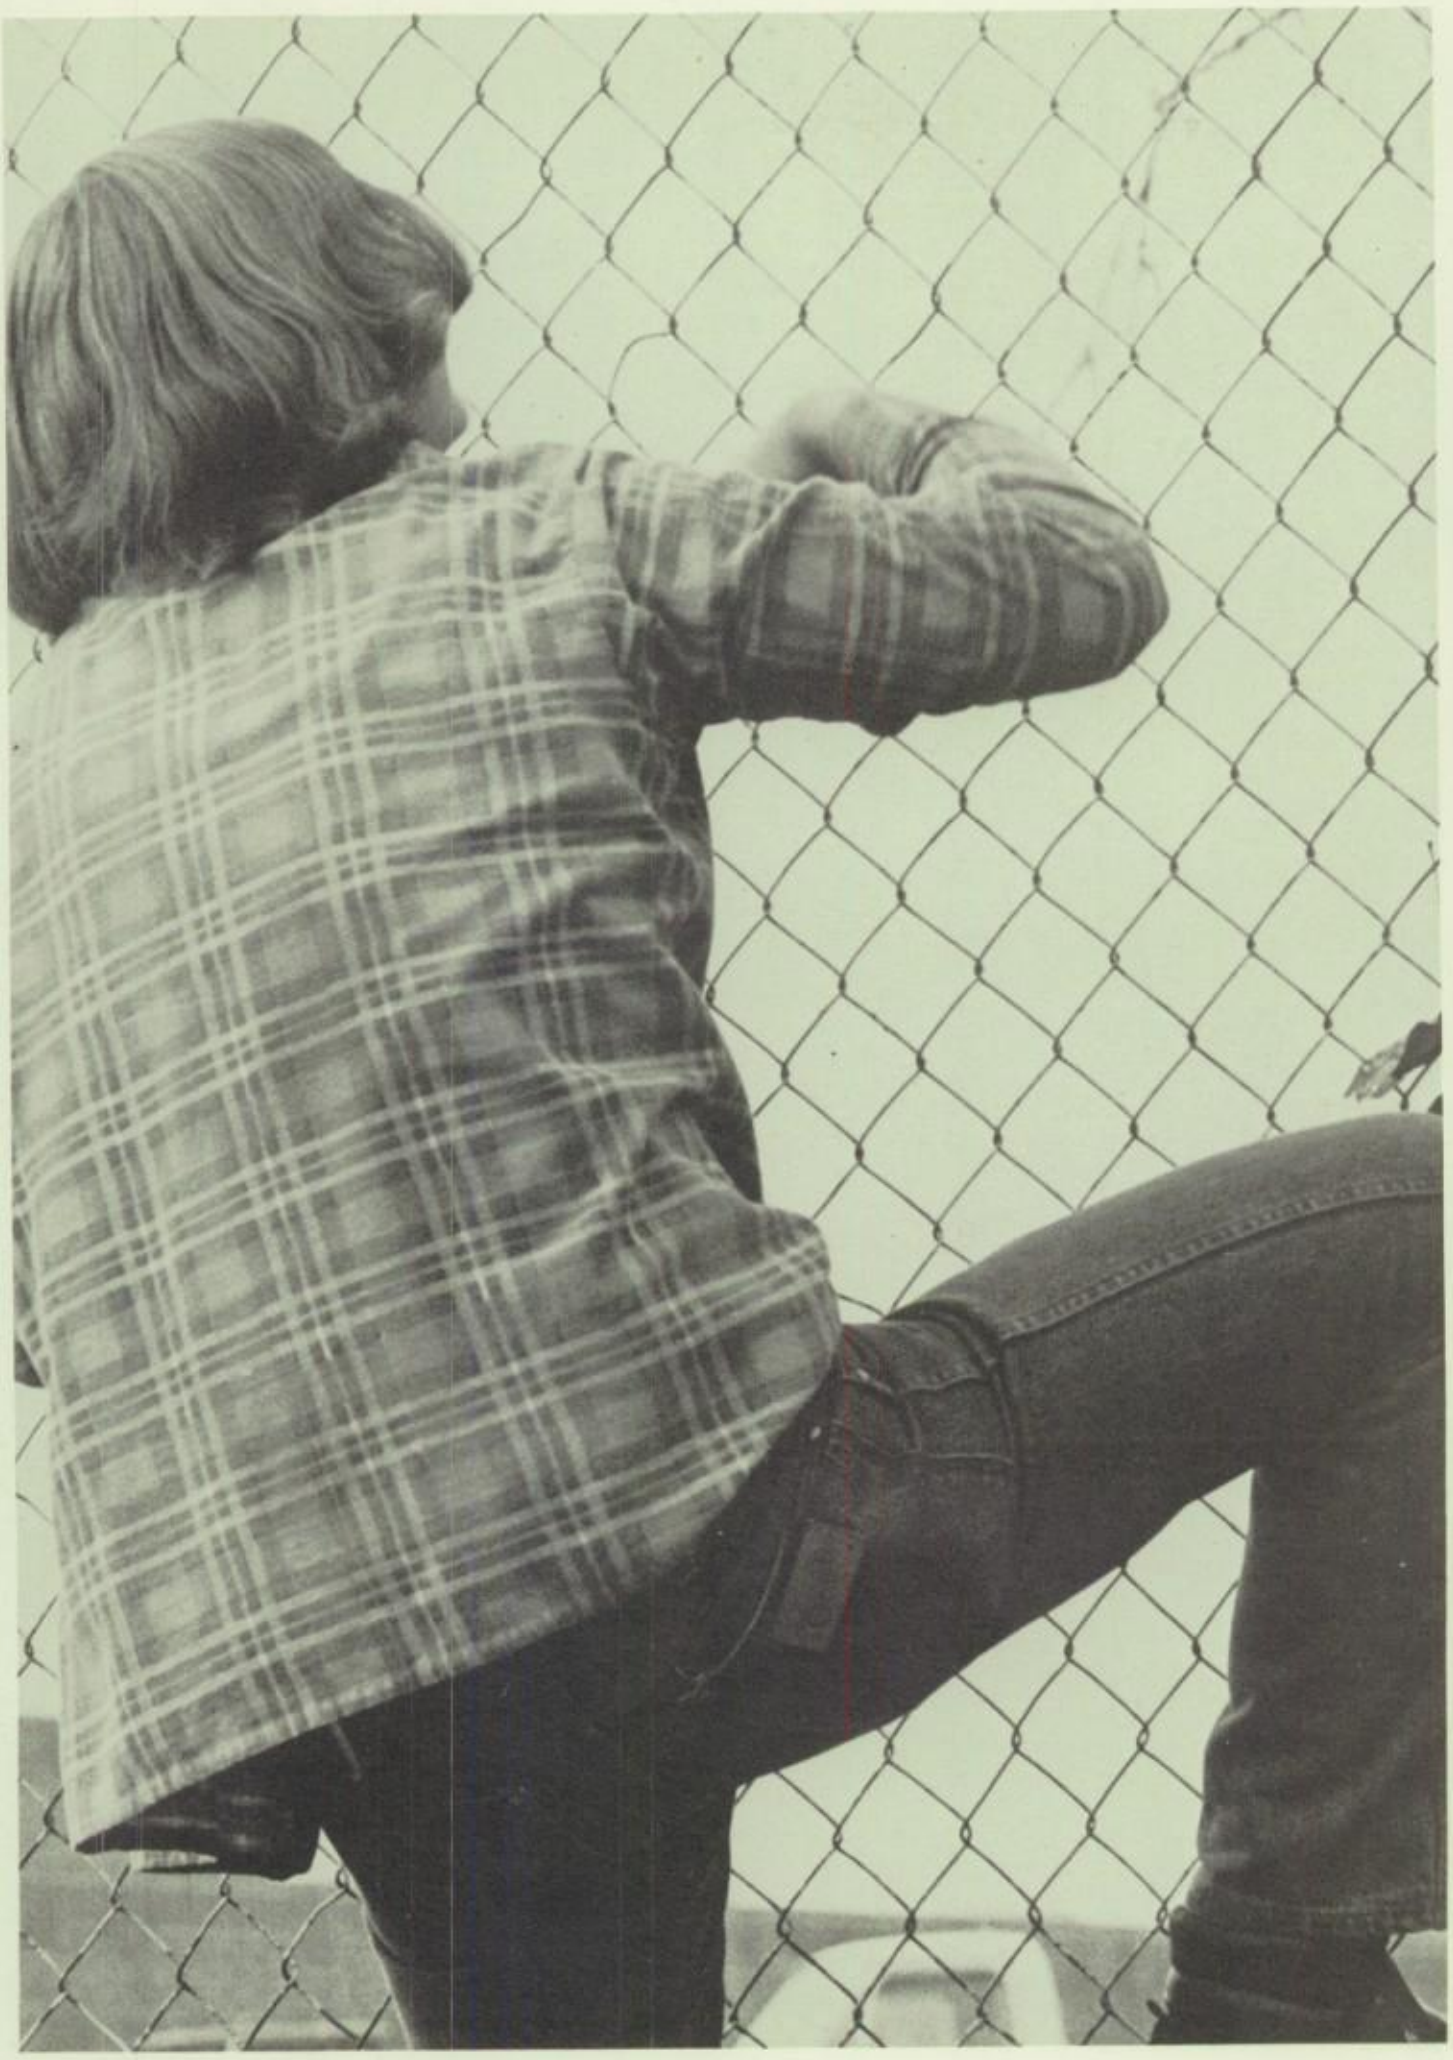
Even with all the introductory courses sophomores begin to look forward to the next two years

To represent making it halfway the juniors obtain the symbolic high school ring which makes them feel a part of their school.

To a junior and senior two major events are the Homecoming and the Prom. These events make up present good times that soon become fond memories.

When it comes graduation time seniors feel the end of the journey is over and it becomes time to encounter new experiences; so we swallow our pride and humble ourselves into the time of change.

by joining clubs and coming in contact with many different people. Halfway through the year these people become friends.



One person always stands out in a crowd, yet crowds are necessary backgrounds for those individuals.

As fall marks the change in the seasons, it also represents the time of the flaming rapture that glows in our souls.

In spring the golden seeds of kindness are scattered through the blooms of smiles shared with each other.

As summer livens up the year it brightens up our life by reflecting the green growth of nature.

The reflection of winter is like a looking glass in which the crystal icy blues mirror our lives in relationship to one another.

If we'll take the time to look around we will find people doing anything from sleeping outside, to hanging someone up-side down off a banister. We will find others who just like to follow and watch what's happening. Whether we lead the action or follow it, we all remain Smith's Golden Eagles.

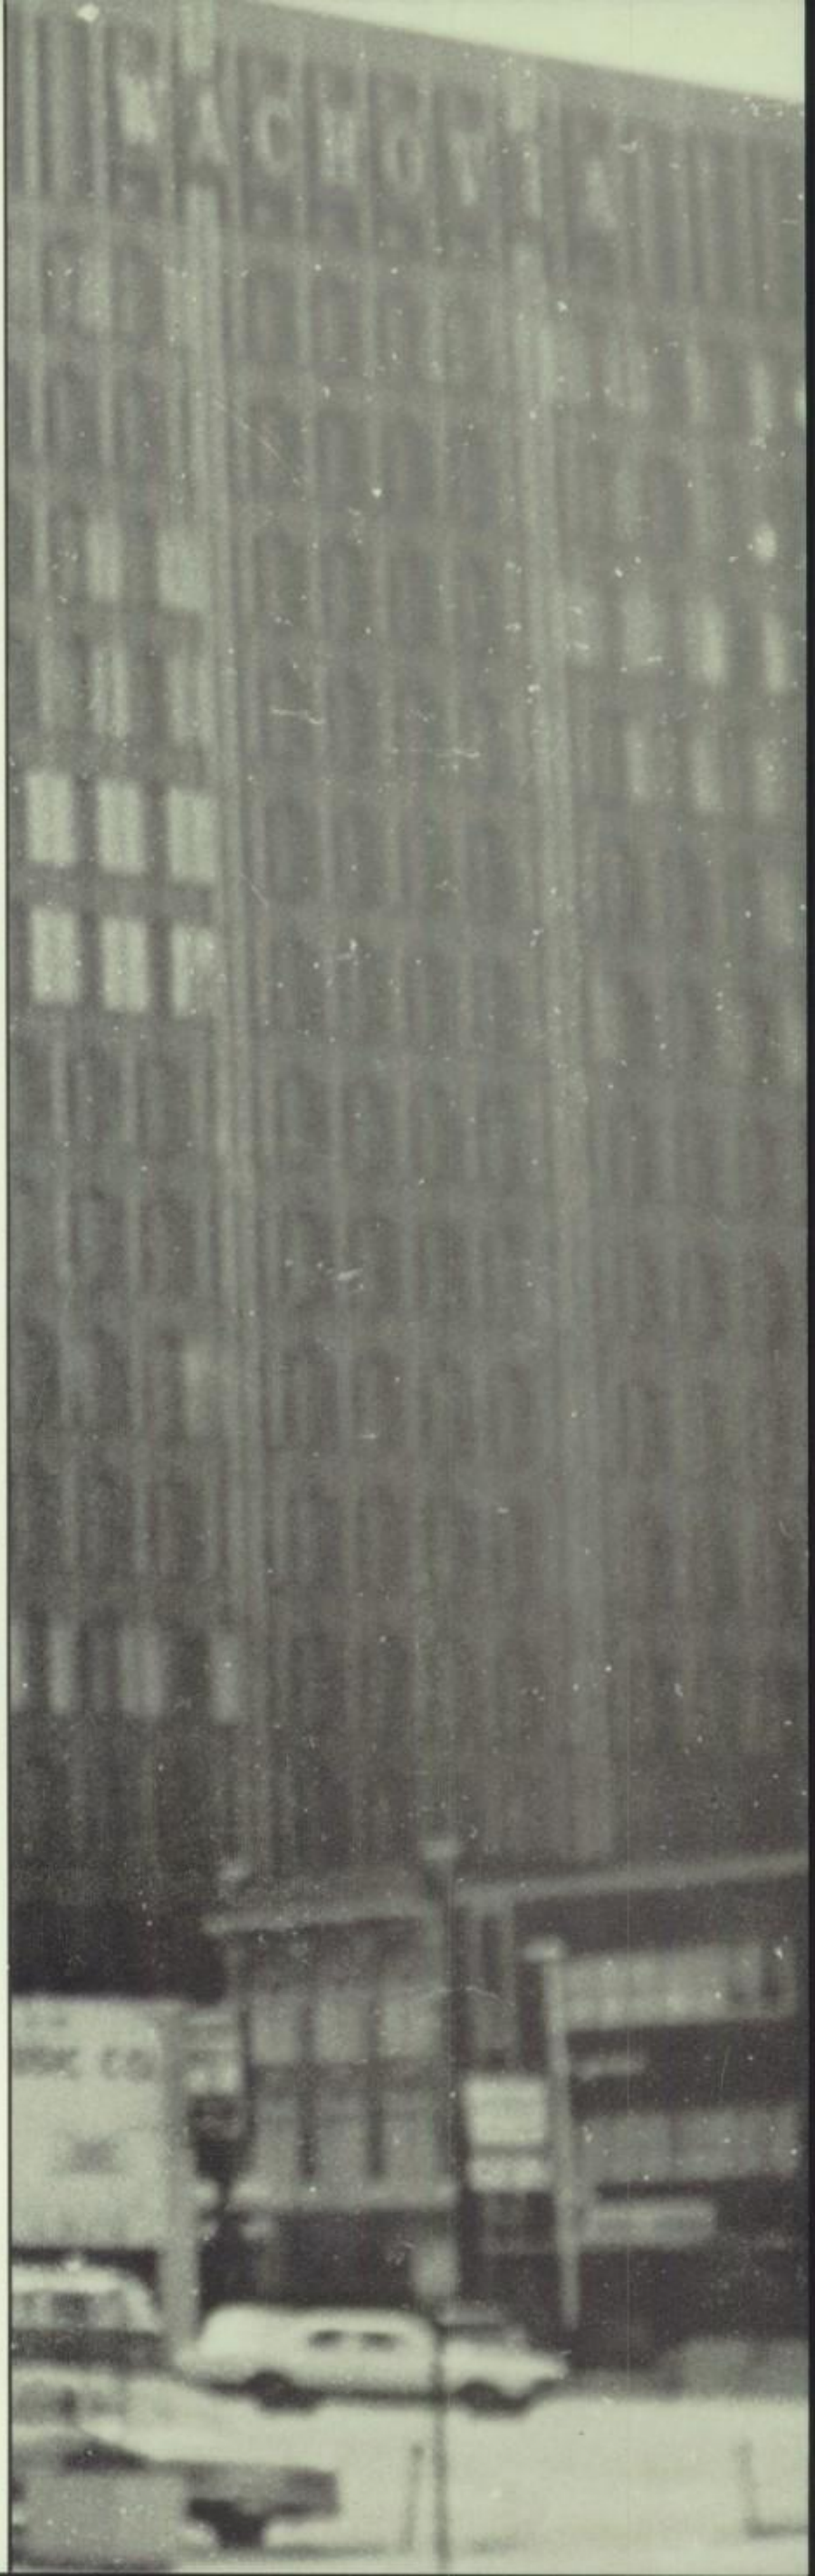
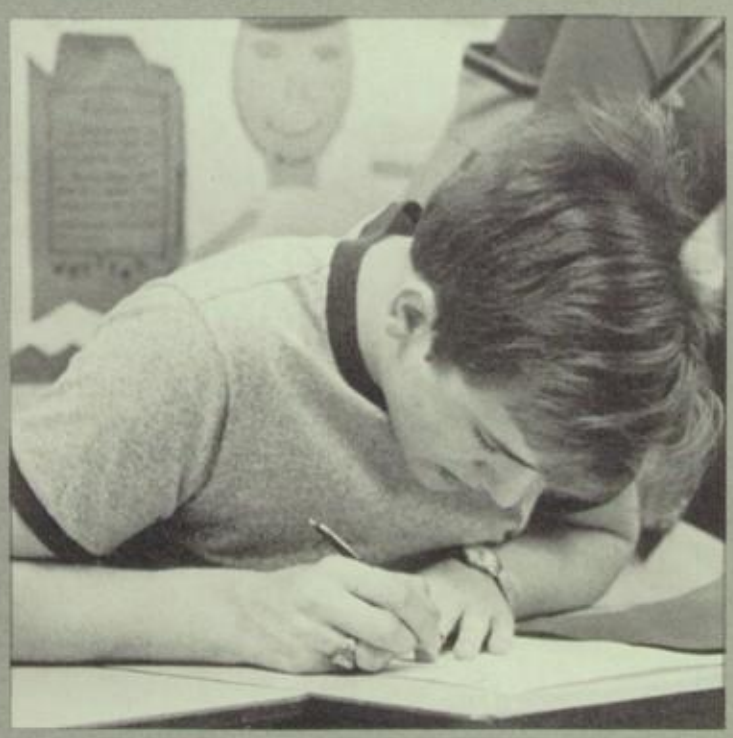
Everyone can find things to do around our town to stay happy. Jeff Rainey keeps Amanda Austin smiling even though her tennis racket is in a wreck.

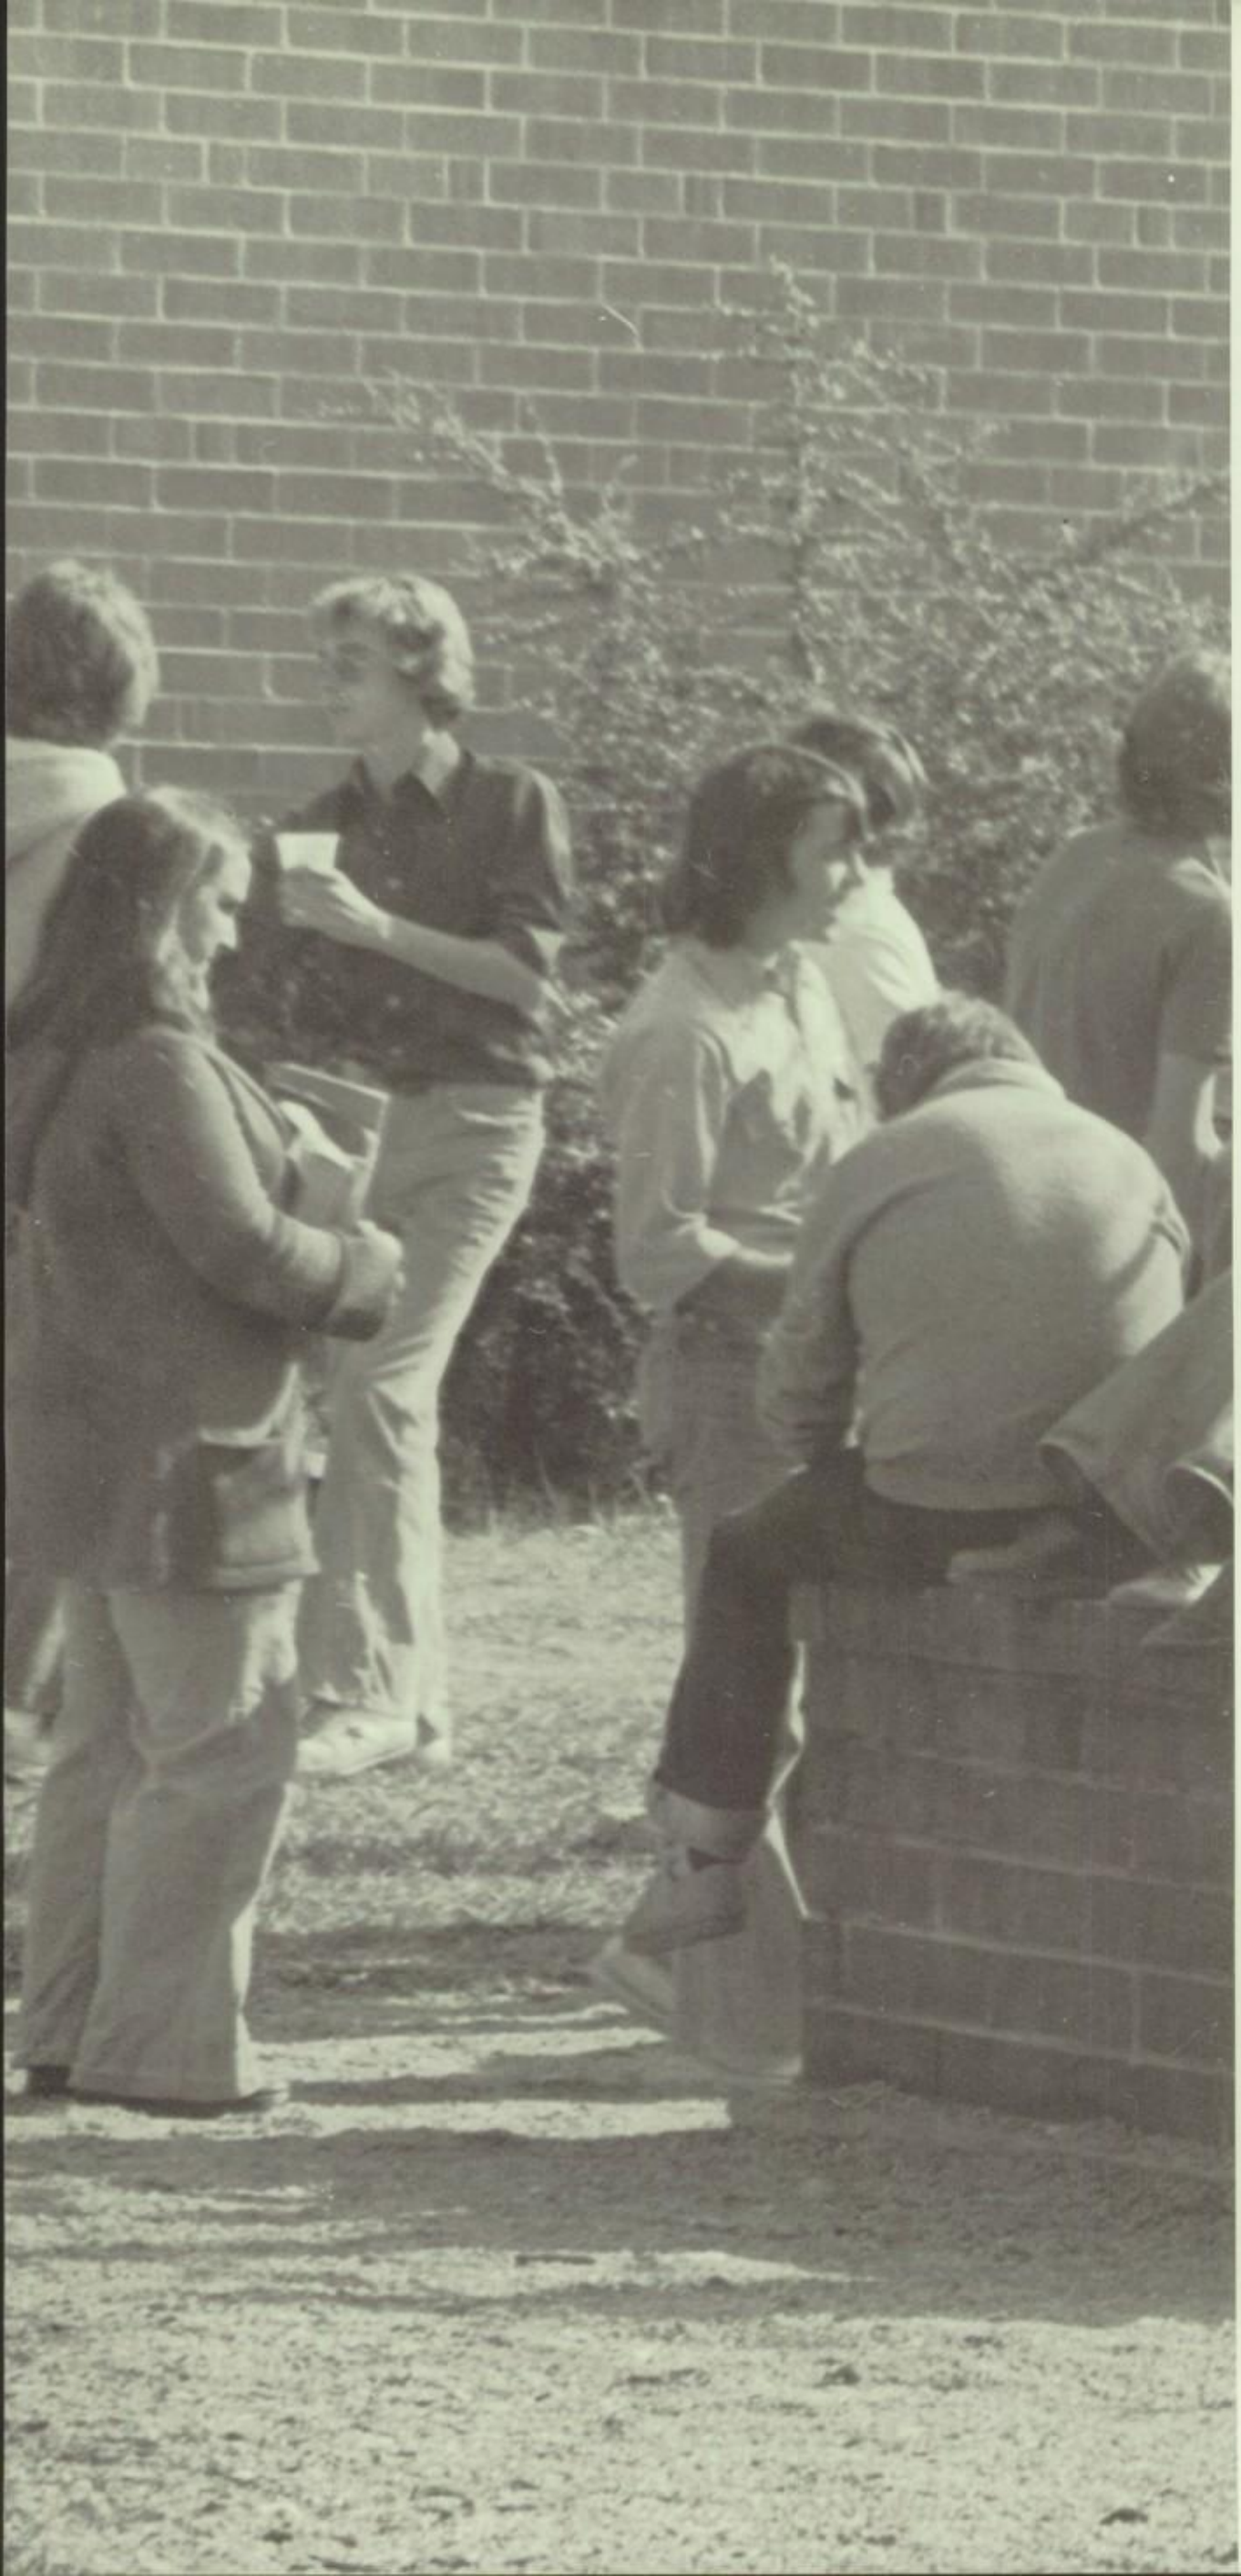
Soundra Blinson trys to hide her smile with her hand, and of course everyone can't help enjoying the concert by First Gear.



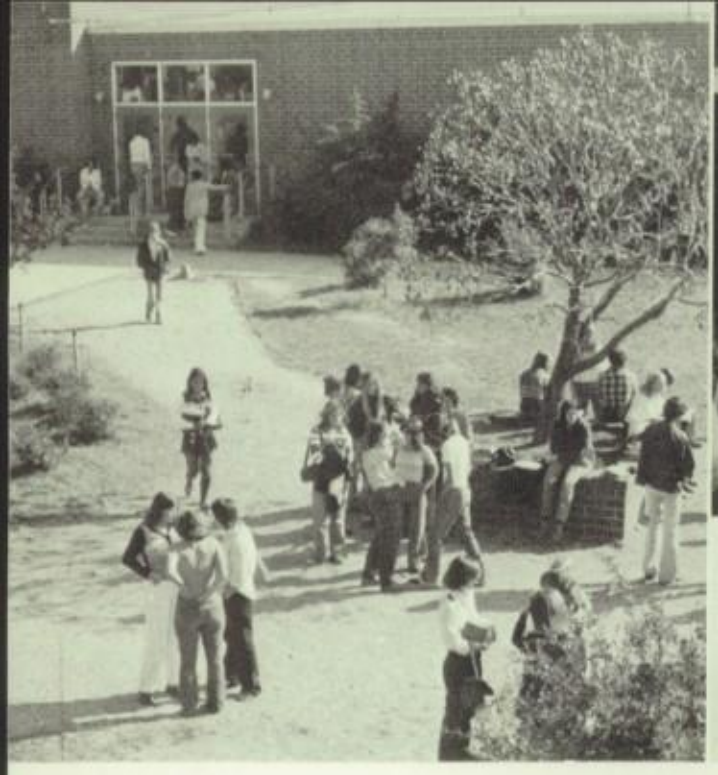


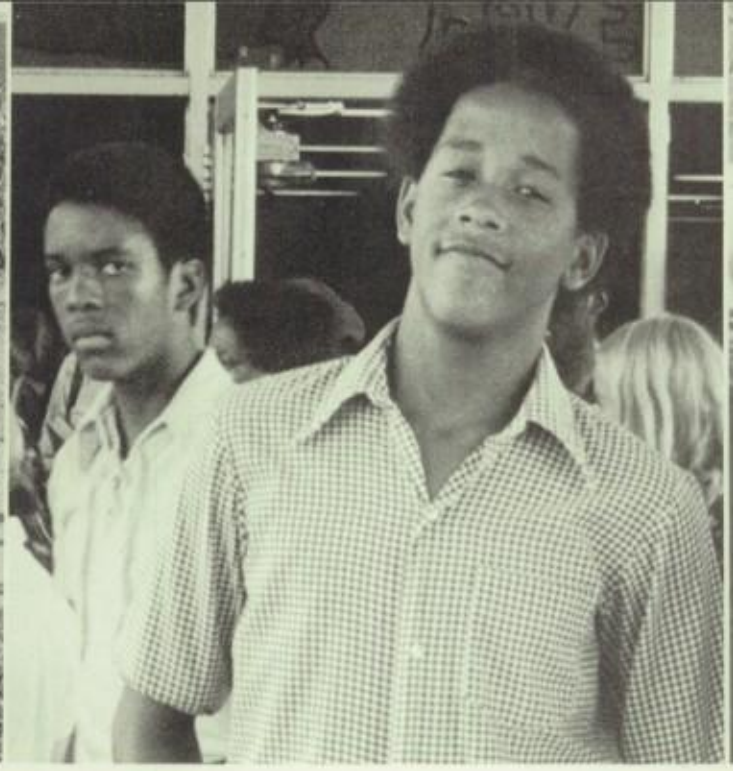
Order plays an important part in the world around us. It helps us to learn and relate to others and is necessary to develop our minds, our bodies, and ourselves . . . in order to live . . .

As we sit and work, our minds begin to wander and look back on all the traditions and good times we shared with others here at Smith. We want to hold our experiences as long as we can, so we pocket them into our memories.

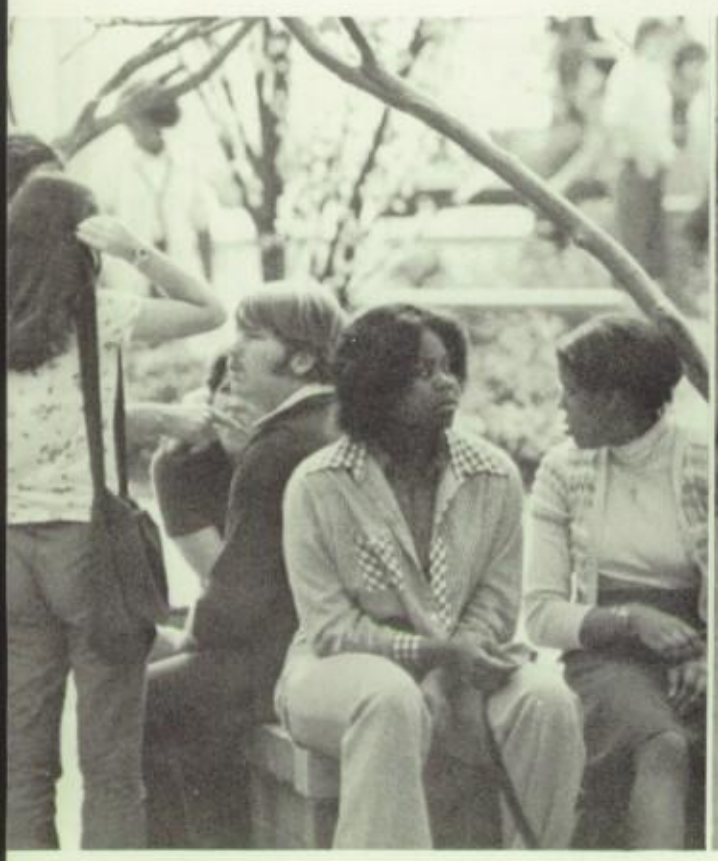


Student Life

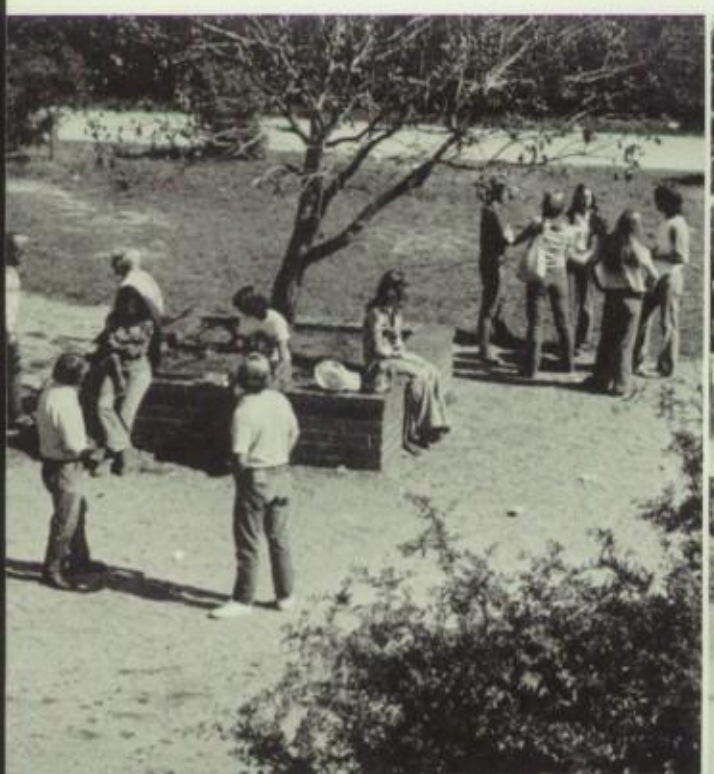




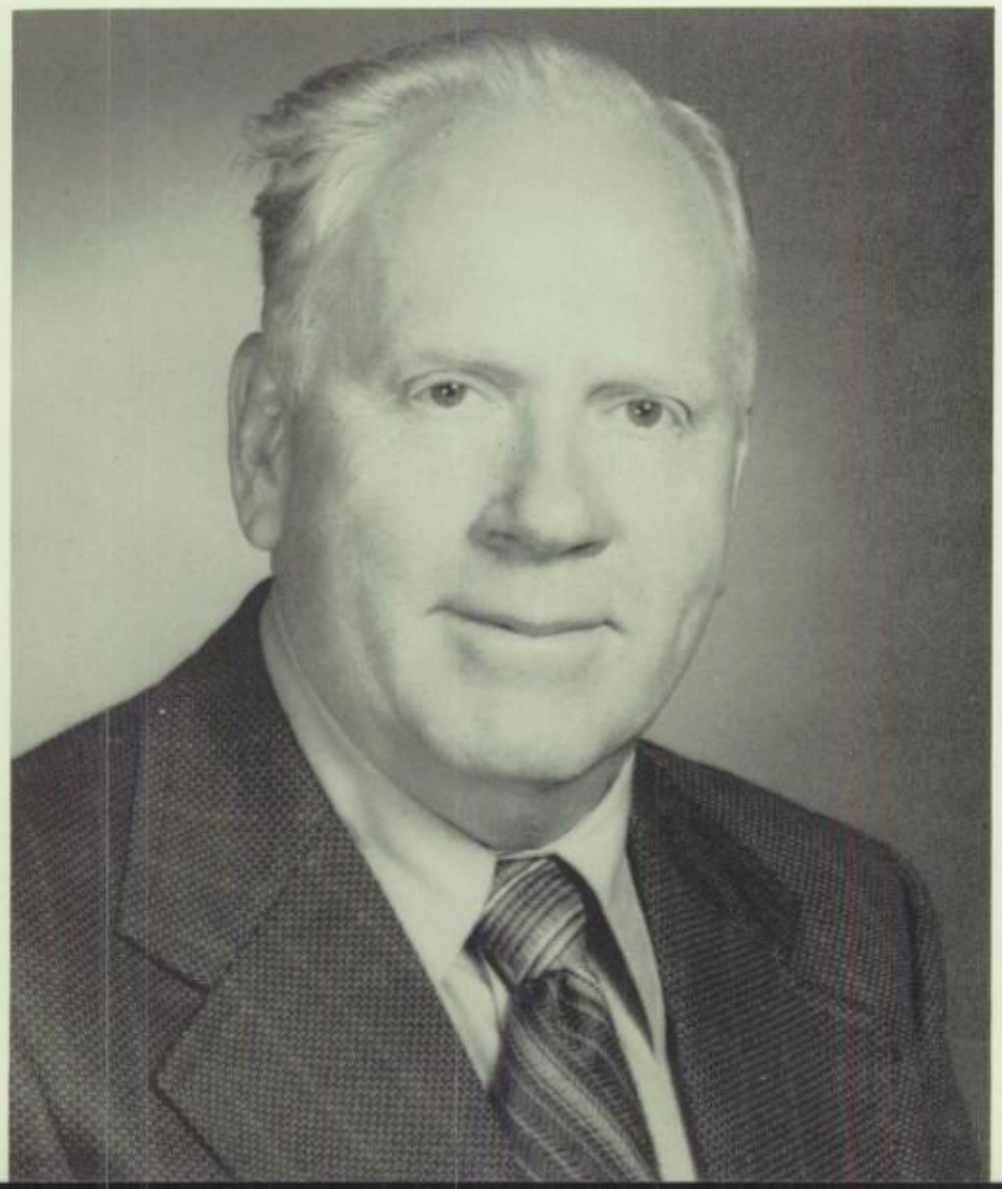
WE THE STUDENTS,



WISH TO THANK . . .



Mr. William B. McIver



Mr. William B. McIver, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George N. McIver, is a native of Chatham Co. N.C. He and his wife, Mrs. Irene Herring McIver, have one son, William McIver Jr. Mr. McIver graduated from the High School Department of Campbell College and received an A.B. from Wake Forest University and a M.A. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has done further study at Columbia University in New York. Mr. McIver belongs to the First Baptist Church of Greensboro, where he participates actively on various committees and served three four year terms as a member of the Board of Deacons. He is a member of many civic organizations. After having served twenty years on active and reserve duty with the U.S. Navy he retired as Lieutenant Senior Grade in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Mr. McIver has spent a total of thirty-six years in education in Greensboro. Mr. William B. McIver is a man to be commended as he retires as the first principal (1963-1976) of Ben L. Smith High School.

Booster Club and Junior Class promote activities

There were fortunate outcomes for the projects promoted by the Booster Club and the Junior Class. Junior Class sponsored The First Gear Concert to help raise money for this year's prom. The Booster Club sponsored a very successful "Donkey Basketball Game," in which the proceeds went to the Athletic Fund.

Greensboro Youth Council

The Greensboro Youth Council is an organization composed of the students from the four high schools. Each year GYC sponsors a dozen or more projects involving the youth of Greensboro. These projects include Teenage Carnival, Jr. City Council, Halloween Flea Market, Chris Evergreen and Teenage Talent Show. The Smith district of the Youth Council plays an active role in the operation of GYC.

Pep Club

The Pep Club is a group of spirited students who work together to back up all school sports. They make posters to announce school activities and also have "Spirit Days" such as "Oldie Goldie" day, in which all students are urged to wear dress up clothes to show their school spirit. Pep Club members attend all school sports, where they try to keep the enthusiasm going even if the team isn't winning. Pep Club is also involved in decorating the school for Homecoming and important school games.

Latin Club

Latin Club is one of Smith's most active clubs, with various projects planned throughout the year. Last year five students, Rose Beheler, Latin I; Denise Iman and Dannelle Turner, Latin II; Debbie Hodges and Greg Eller, Latin III recited Latin poetry in competition at Salem College. This year Mrs. Cober entered more students in the poetry, drama, and song divisions of the Salem contest. Another activity participated in by last year's Latin Club and sponsored by the Foreign Language Association of N.C. was the conference in Goldsboro for Latin students and teachers. The Latin Club attends the Junior Classical League Convention. The Latin Club's money raising project for this year was the selling of sponges. Latin Club also had a slave sell during the Foreign Language Week and participated in a soccer match and other activities between the languages.

Y-Teens

Y-Teens is a social club that is associated with the YWCA. The club tries to promote sister-hood between the girls and women. The service and selling project for this year and past ones are passing out candy to orphans for Halloween, visiting the elderly people on Mother's Day, and selling animals and candles. Service projects such as these, as well as many fund raising projects are planned for the entire school year. All-in all, Y-Teens is a club trying to aid others.

Junior Exchange

Jr. Exchange Club has a good time posing for a picture.

Officers: Treasurer, Steve Lockridge; President, Robin Smith; Sergeant of Arms, Boyd Saunders; Vice President, Marty Houglan; Secretary, Johnny Boyd.

The Junior Exchange Club had an unusually good year. They began their year by passing out sport schedules. One big task they took on was the painting of the bleachers for the new Football Stadium. The members of Junior Exchange also worked at the GYC's Christmas Toys, sponsored a contestant for the Miss Christmas Seal Contest, and worked at the Teenage Carnival. Another project was volunteering to be the Cheerleaders for the powder-puff football game. Robin Smith, president of Jr. Exchange, was the Homecoming Queen of the powder-puff game. The club's moneymaking project for the year was to sell Smith High School tee-shirts.

Junior Jaycettes started off the year with a rush of sophomores wanting to join. More than 40 new girls expressed their interest in joining the club. The money making project this year was selling spirit ribbons for the football games. The Jaycettes also worked with Headstart and the New BIB project. At Christmas they sponsored a family and bought a bicycle for the little boy. Once again they worked at the GGO, had a booth at the Teen-age Carnival, worked at Christmas Toys, and at the Jaycees' Haunted House. They also helped the Jaycees man a booth at the fair and sponsored a girl for the Christmas Seal Contest.

Officers: Treasurer, Elizabeth Myers; Secretary, Jennie Watson; Vice President, Adina Moore; President, Karen Kerr.

Sub Juniors started off this year with a big success. Jennie Watson, a member of Sub Juniors, won the Miss Christmas Seal Contest from Smith. She participated in the final contest which involved eleven girls. One of the major events the Sub Juniors organized was a powder-puff football game against the Jr. Jaycettes. Sub Juniors' year long project is visiting McCleansville prison where they decorate for various holidays and make favors for the prisoners.

Key Club

Jenny Watson is the Key Club sweetheart.

The Key Club this year initated several projects to promote school spirit. They played the men of the faculty in volleyball, the Jr. Exchange in basketball, and sold mugs with the Golden Eagle insignia. For the third year straight they supplied, in Scott Kellum, the district Lt. governor. Larry Auton, Jeff Belton, and Terry Nall planned the 1975 50th Anniversary North and South Carolina District Convention. Over the last summer Jeff Belton and Terry Nall attended the Governor's Summer Leadership Conference. The club also helped with the Diabetes Bike-a-thon in the spring and has planned a trip to the beach after school.

Honor Society

Members of the Honor Society are the academic and service oriented leaders of the school. Prospective members should have a grade average of at least 3.75 and are also expected to have exceptional character and leadership abilities. Belonging to Honor Society is one of the highest achievements for a student at Ben L. Smith.

The GAA is an organization designed to provide girls opportunities for competition and recreation in sport. The group also provides service to the school by assisting in the cleaning of the Cafeteria after break each day. Membership in GAA is open to any interested female at Smith, and members accumulate points for their sports and GAA projects.

Yearbook

Ben L. Smith's yearbook is named the Aquila, the Latin word for eagle. The staff meets one period every day as a class. This year's staff, under co-editors Cindy Clemmer and Brenda Jackson, has worked diligently to produce the bicentennial yearbook. The staff is responsible for selling ads to finance the yearbook as well as drawing layouts, selecting pictures, and typing copy. Mr. Bonardi and student photographers produce pictures for the Aquila.

One of the Eagle Eye's most dedicated workers is Norma Stanely.

The Eagle Eye staff had ten people at the beginning of the year. The paper was published every other week with Bobby McFarland as editor. The first five papers were printed by Stone Printing until the advertising money ran out. The remainder of the papers were printed by the graphics class, making the Eagle Eye a completely school-produced paper. All their pictures were taken by Mr. Bonardi, members of his photography class, and Joey Davis. The staff increased after the first four papers of the year.

FSA

The FSA program enables secretaries to play a more positive and active role in professional development, which enables the encouragement of qualified students to enter the secretarial profession.

This year the FSA club at Smith had more seniors, to compete for a National scholarship offered to all senior FSA members in the Nation, than in years past. The club has also done many other things, from Christmas caroling at Evergreen Nursing Home to having wild pajama parties. They also went to a workshop in November and an annual State Convention in the spring. In 1975 the Smith FSA walked away from the convention with all but one of the awards given out to the FSA clubs in the state.

FHA

Individuals who are members of Future Homemakers of America are proud to be an encouraging part of school and community life. This year they had a booth at the Halloween Flea Market, made toys for children, served parties for handicapped children, and raised money with projects to assist them in attending the FHA State Convention. The Club appreciates the joys and satisfactions from group recreation such as iniation and the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Chorus & Musettes

This year the choral department had the arrival of a new teacher, Ms. Woody. She has done a fine job this year with her classes. Chorus and Musettes have been very active this year at Smith. The Musettes returned this year for the first time in several years. This is an independent group who work together. They have no actual teacher and use their own time to practice. Their first program was at J.P. Stevens. The Chorus also had a good year with many new and good singers. They gave a fine performance at Peck Elementary School.

Sitting pretty?

Aquilites

The Aquilites took on a new name this year to go along with the yearbook. They are very proud to march with the band and play an important part during halftime. Their money making project was selling popcorn. The money was used for the trip to Wilimington to participate in a parade. Each girl furnished her own uniform and by doing this they saved money to put towards the Wilimington trip. The Aquilites had a very promising year.

We love you Ed!

Young Life

What is Young Life? It is people getting together with people to go absolutely nuts, whether it is throwing confetti down people's backs at football games, or cruising the lunch circuit from McDonalds to Burger King and Roy Rogers. Young Life also practices screaming our heads off at wrestling matches and basketball games, and just messing around outside waiting for classes to start so we can be late to them. Young Life is for anybody and everybody. Besides the crazy meetings every week, we took those crazy trips to Awanita Valley and Windy Gap. They proved that a human being could do without sleep and eat too much and still have a great time. With Young Life, excitement is the game where you have got to Expect the Unexpected!

ROTC Aerospace

Aerospace Education is provided by the school board and Air Force jointly to familiarize students with recent developments in aviation and space. The club conducts flying training, makes and studies model rockets and airplanes, studies building and design, and takes field trips for aviation and space activities.

The Hi-Y Club has nine regular members that meet every other week or every two weeks. So far they have arranged two interesting field trips to Douglas Battery Factory in Winston-Salem, N.C., and to Tal Williams Chevrolet in Greensboro. The only school project that they have decided to carry out is a Engine steam clean carnival in which the proceeds are used to purchase a special Bicentennial Flag for the school.

Academics

Assistants keep the school going.

Assistants satisfy the needs of teachers and students. These people volunteer for jobs in the guidance offices, dean's office, science labs, library, gym offices and as teachers' aids.

Home Ec. and Health Occupations

The co-educational Home Economics Department at Smith provides students with basic and specialized courses. The basic courses are more domestic ones such as cooking well balanced meals. The specialized courses include Child Care, Health Occupations, Food and Clothing. The Health Occupations is a coordinated program giving students first hand experience in health related occupations. This year the students participated in a dramitization of hospital situations.

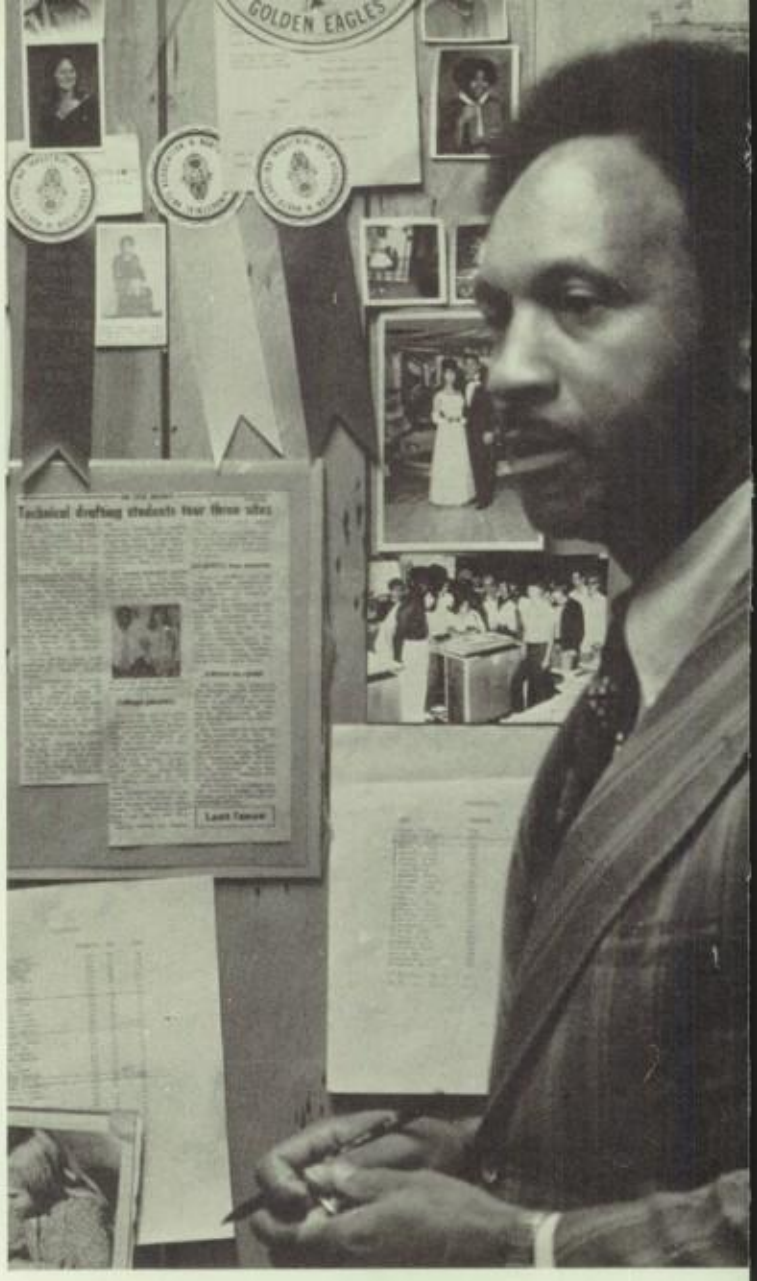
Industrial Arts attracts many students

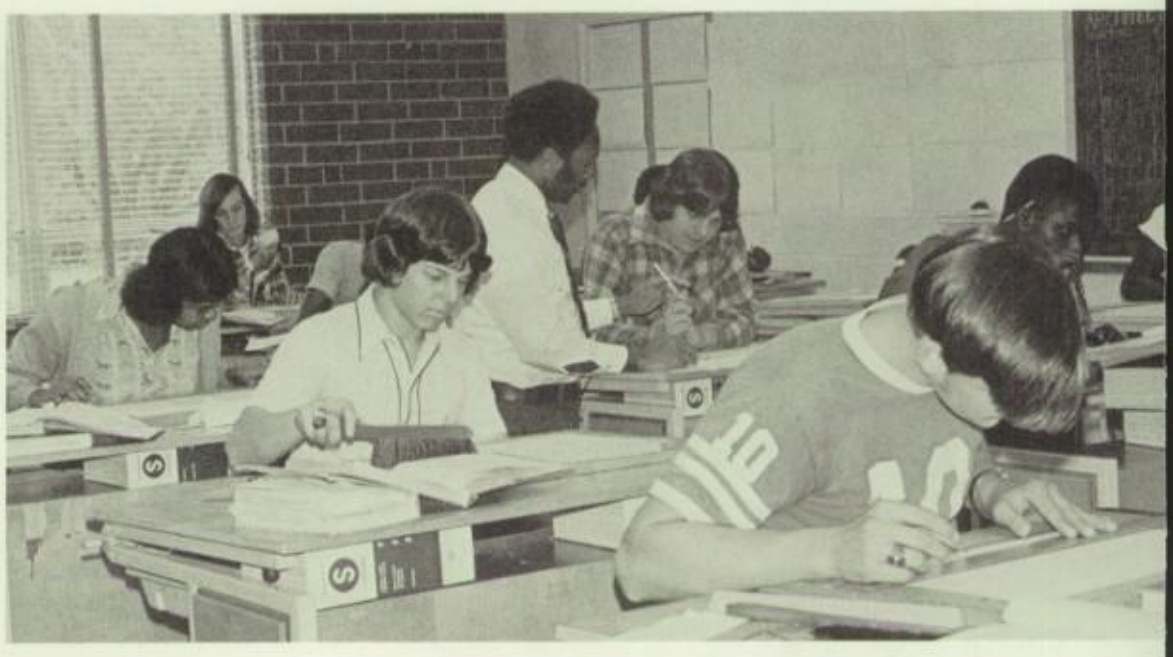
The Industrial Arts Department at Smith prepares female and male students for jobs in the area of machines, auto mechanics, drafting, carpentry and graphics. Many of these students compete and qualify in competition throughout the state. Graphics is kept very busy printing school activities tickets, Eagle Eye and newsletters.

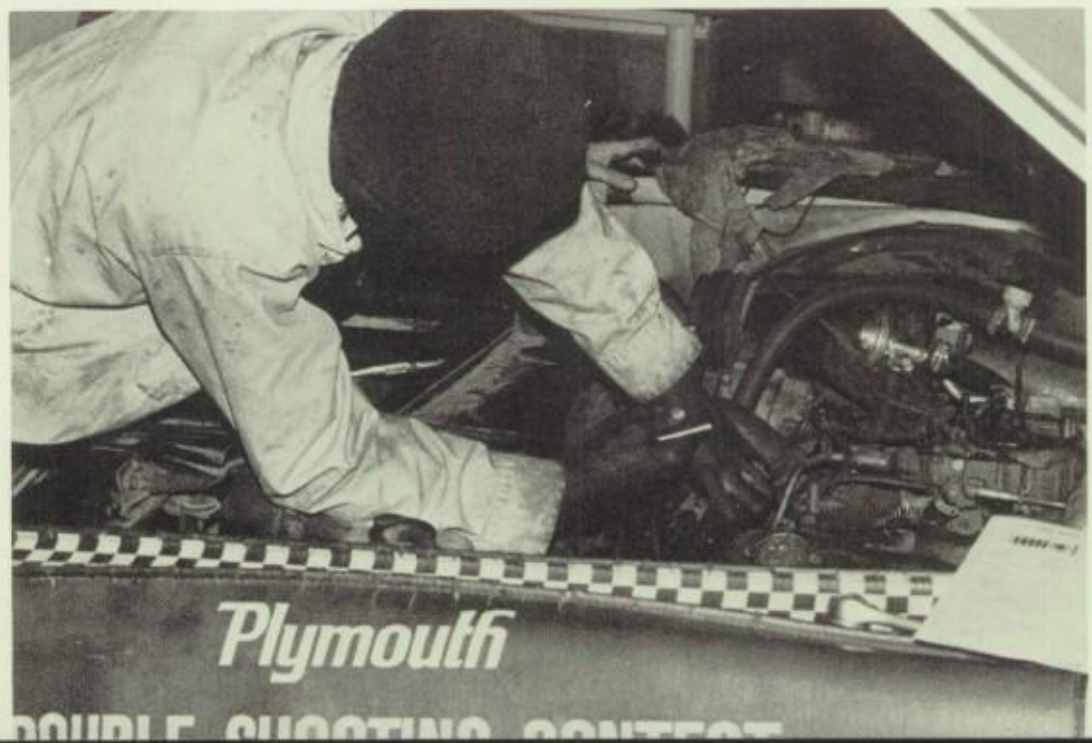


Mr. Bigelow admires the Ind. Arts board.

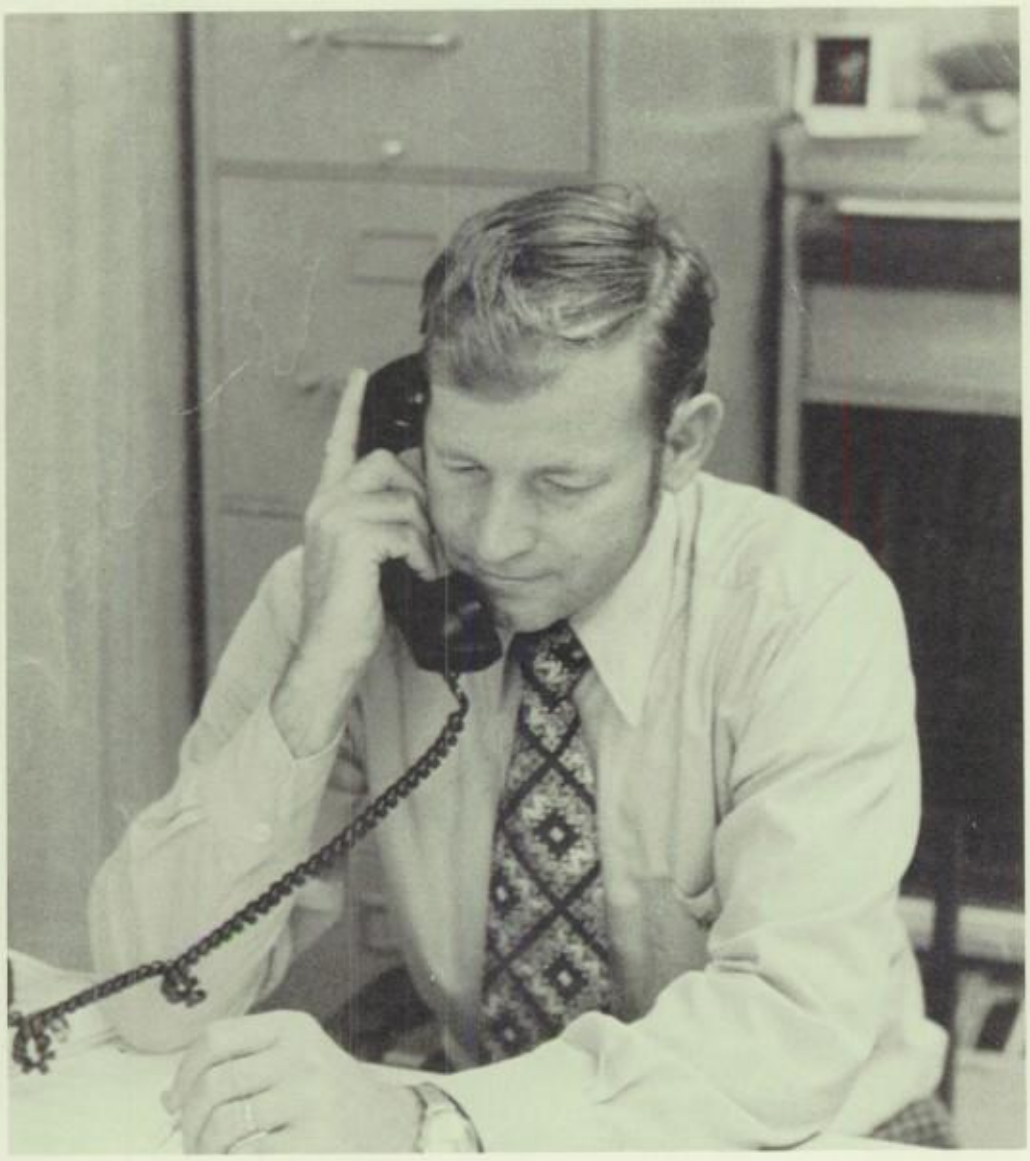
Hey! I found it!

Mr. Bigelow instructs students in drafting.





On the job training is basis of Co-op



Mr. Woody has numerous jobs in the business office as well as the classroom.

Smith has the largest and most complete Cooperative Education Department in the state. This department helps students in finding part-time afternoon jobs while receiving credits. Each of the classes have active clubs and participate in competition.

Mr. Ham works with co-op students.

Music department increases; Art students paint murals

Students at Smith who are musically inclined find themselves very much at home in the well staffed Music Department. The choruses, bands, and orchestra present many programs during the year. Many of the students are involved in All-State tryouts. The Art Department is quite busy with projects and studying art history. The students keep attractive and original creations on the doors, walls, and windows of the school.

The students express themselves on the art room walls.

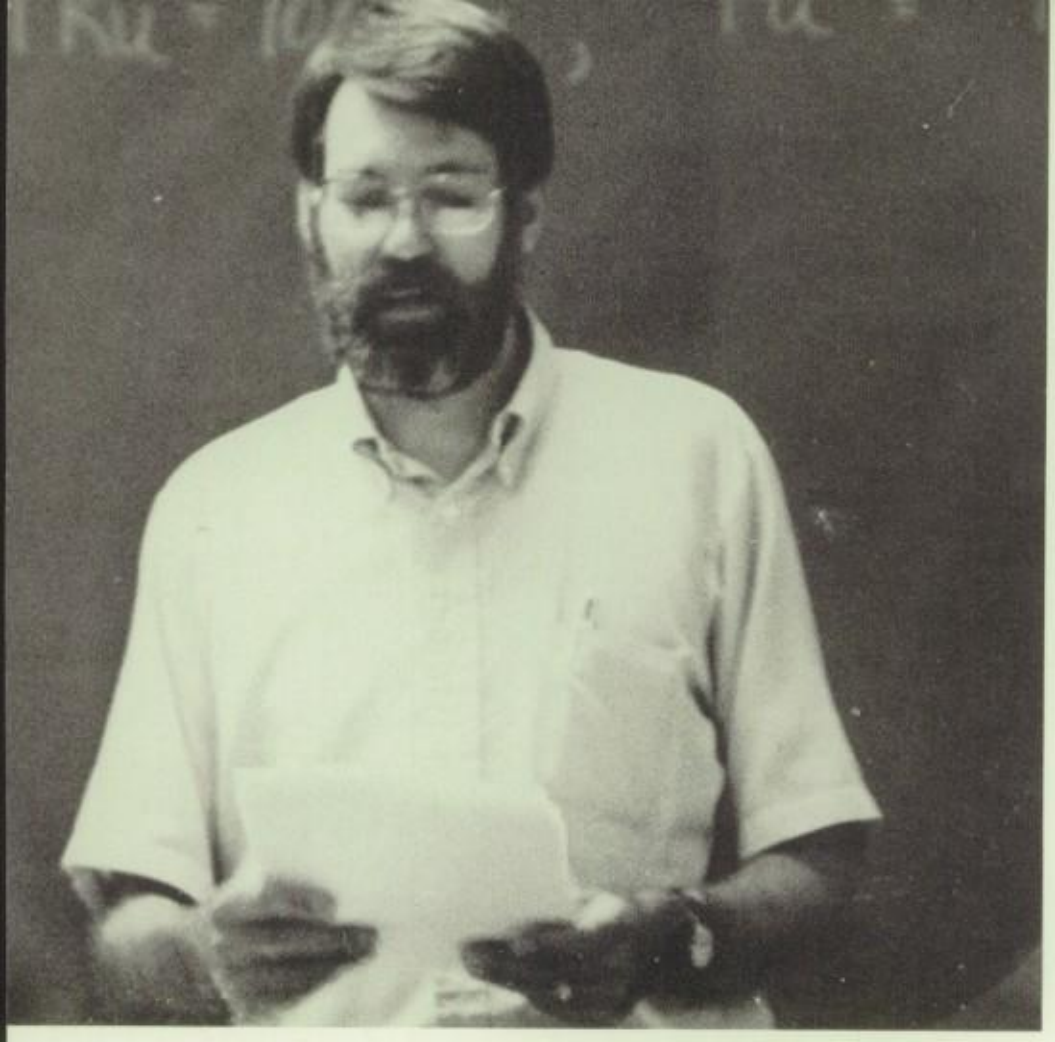
Foreign Language speaks out on the bulletin board.

English department changes with students interest; New German class attracts many.

Ms. Linney, new English teacher at Smith.

Smith's English department changes according with the trend and the interest of students. This year the course offerings ranged from practical courses to more challenging courses such as Advanced Placement English and Independent Study. Many things change in the curriculum through the years, but students are still faced with vocabulary tests, themes and analyses. One inninative program, "Seminars in Reading" is where students have opportunity to tutor other students. The Foreign Language Department at Smith provides pleasure for many students. French, German, Latin and Spanish are learned by students through the grammar, culture, music, and art of the country, and sometimes a visit to the country. German was just added to the course offerings this year. Five levels of French and Spanish are taught, four levels of Latin and one level of German. Students of the lower levels tussle with basic grammar, while the upper levels study historic and current events.

Regina Duren tutors students in Seminars in Reading.

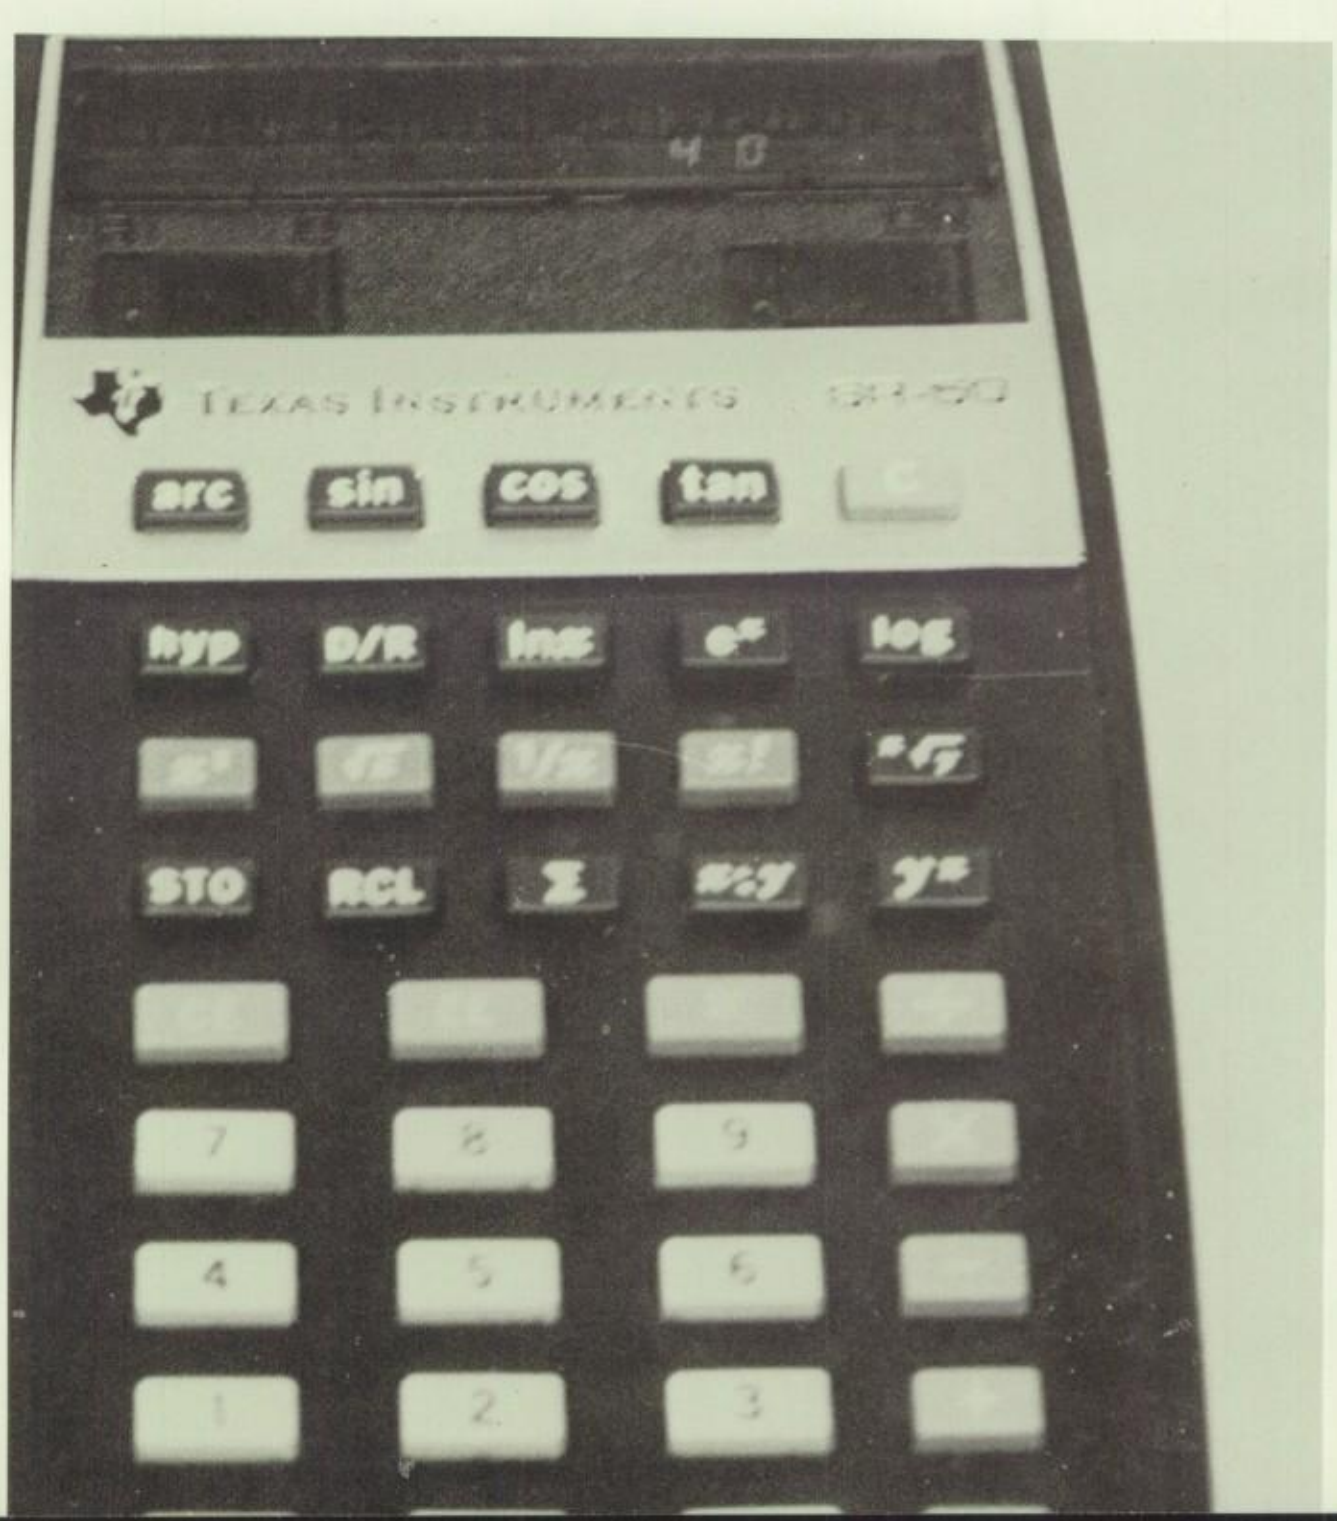


Mr. Huffaker lectures his chemistry class.

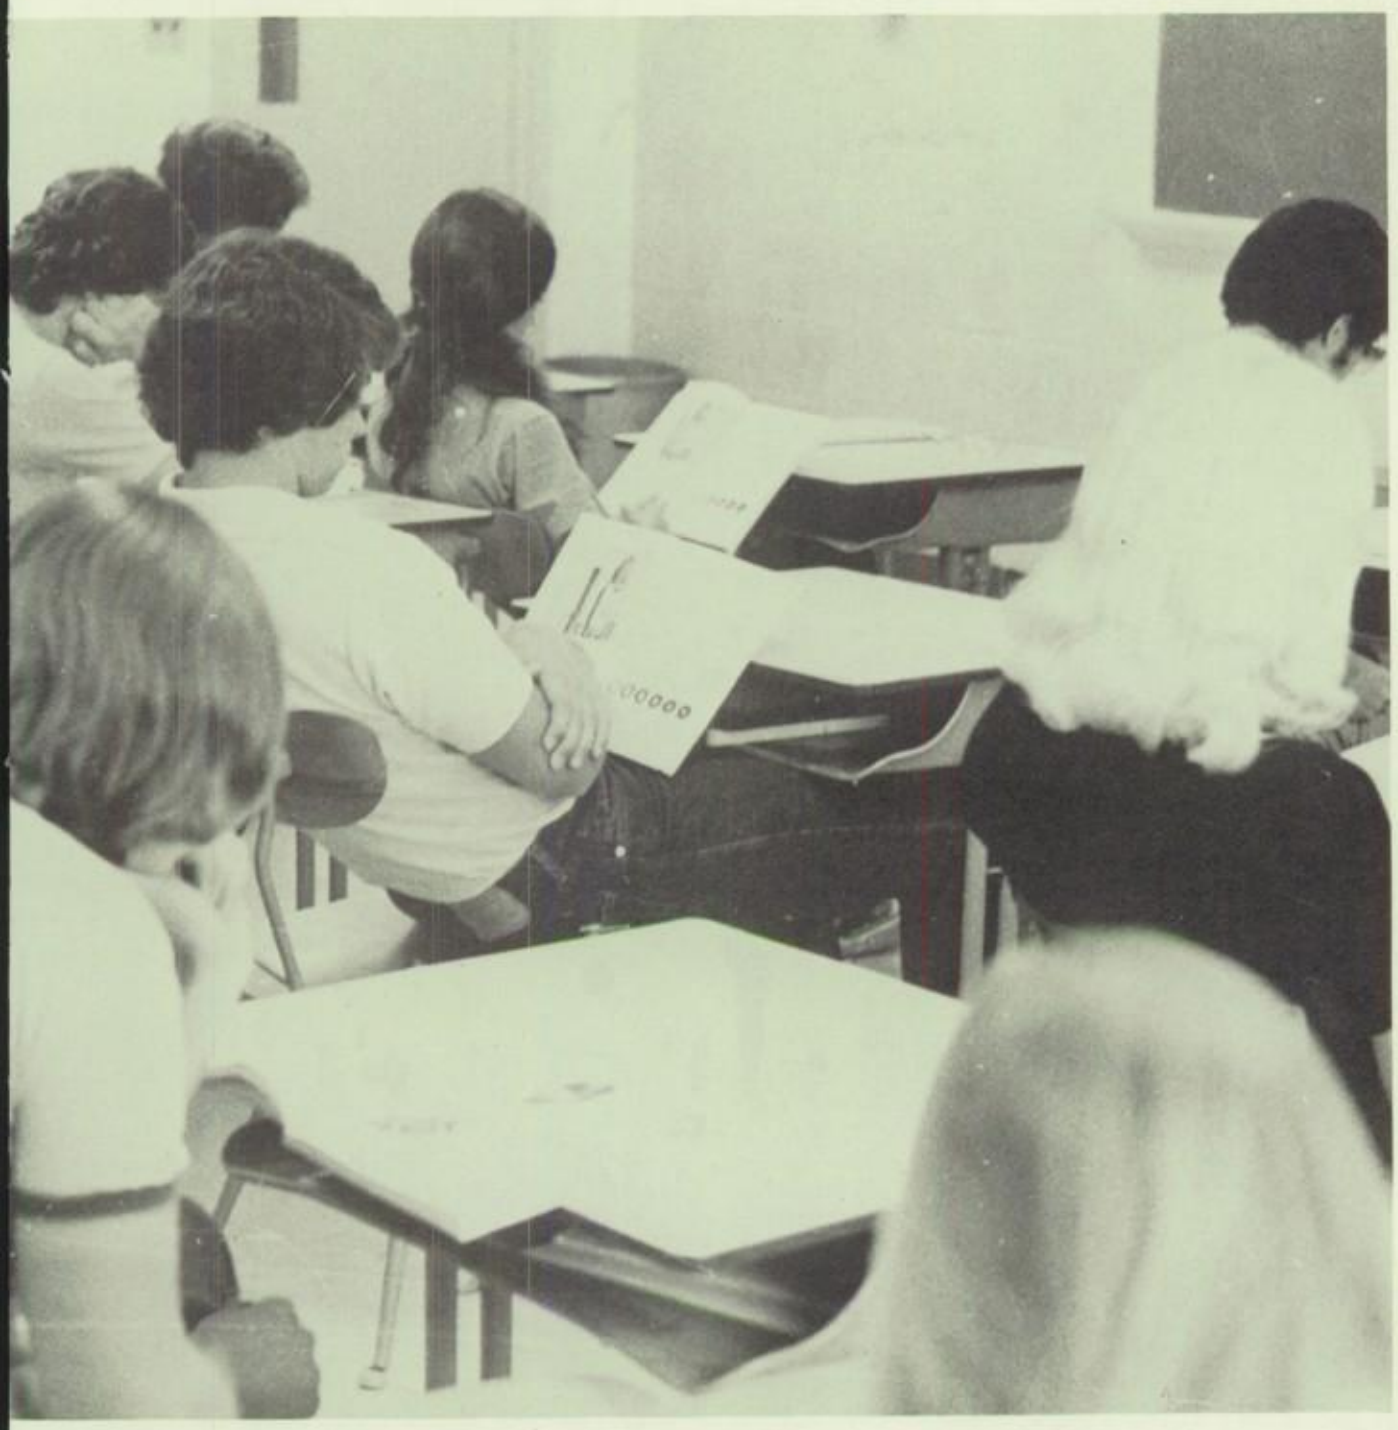
Ms. Love helps Jimmy Overby get the answers.

Math teachers generate interest; Science students take many field trips.

There are three types of sciences taught at Smith: Biology, Chemistry and Physics. Sophomores are offered a variety of courses in Biology. The Biology teachers challenge the students with animal and plant life, organisms, microscopes, diseases and structure of the human body. The advanced Biology students take many field trips and study biology in depth. Chemistry and Advanced Chemistry students are engrossed in experimentation and chemical reactions. Many of the students are also busy saving pennies for calculators. Smith has a large offering of math courses. These range from Practical and Business Math to the Honors course, Elementary Analysis.

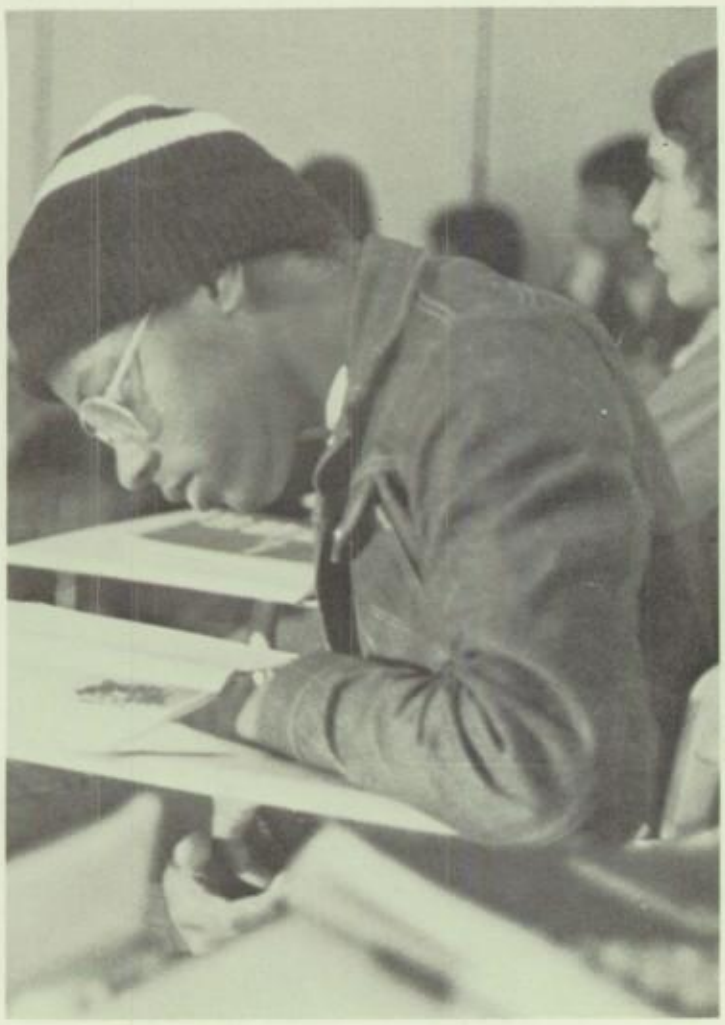


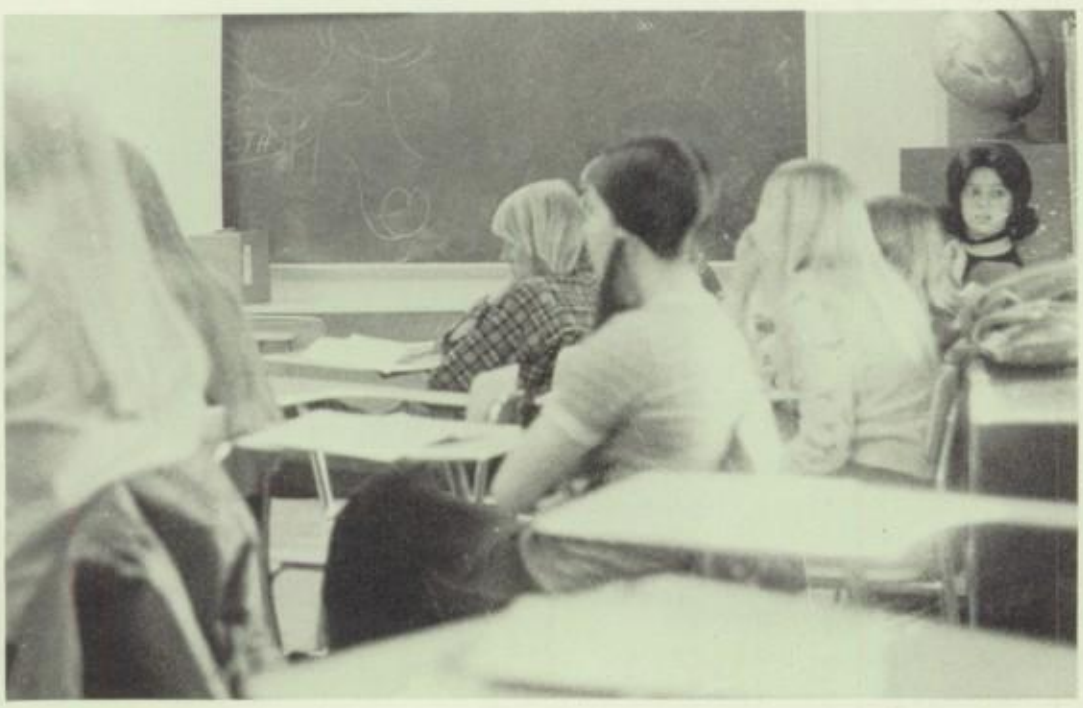
Calculators become a big help in Science and Math.



History Classes Study Bicentennial

The Social Studies department at Smith is equipped with top rank teachers. The student is able to pick the type of history course that best interests him. Along with studying the foundations of the U.S. history the student is able to study current events. Many of the courses are right in line with the Bicentennial.





Students listen to history lecture.

Terry Worley strains his muscles.

Ms. Glisson instructs a hand stand.

Physical Education

The Physical Education program provides instruction for students of any skill level and is unique in that it provides the students with the opportunity to select his own course. It is totally co-educational, and has been developed according to the interest and needs of the student body. Upon completion of the swimming pool, Smith High School will have one of the finest public school physical education facilities in the state. Smith is fortunate to have three very patient and brave instructors teaching Driver's Education. These instructors are put to test when the nervous drivers and the over-confident speed monsters try for their licenses.

Administrators experiment with new school policies.

Administrators as well as students began the year 75-76 with some changes to adjust to. Homeroom this year was combined with first period making a 75 minute long class. Also implemented was the limited use of the P.A. System with announcements circulated through second period. Through time these policies have been accepted by students and faculty.

This year was quite different for the varsity cheerleaders here at Smith. The cheerleaders not only cheered for the Boy's varsity basketball games, but for the girl's team as well. During the summer the varsity squad attended Cheerleading Camp at Camp Pla-Mor in South Carolina where they received two ribbons for their efforts and the honor of the Spirit Bell one day at camp for their great camp spirit. Also during the year the cheerleaders made posters for games and sponsored many spirit days.

Cone—Champion of the casual way of life since 1895. We first made our mark in denim, and soon became America's leading manufacturer of this comfortable fabric. Next came Cone corduroy, an equal winner. Today the 25 plants of Cone Mills Corporation create and finish a whole line-up of fabrics for casualwear, sportswear, sleepwear, uniforms, and career apparel. Home furnishings and home sewing fabrics, towels, bedspreads—even dyestuffs and polyurethane foam are now part of our family of products. The 14,500 employees of Cone Mills Corporation are proud of their part in creating basic fabrics that are the backbone of American fashion. Cone

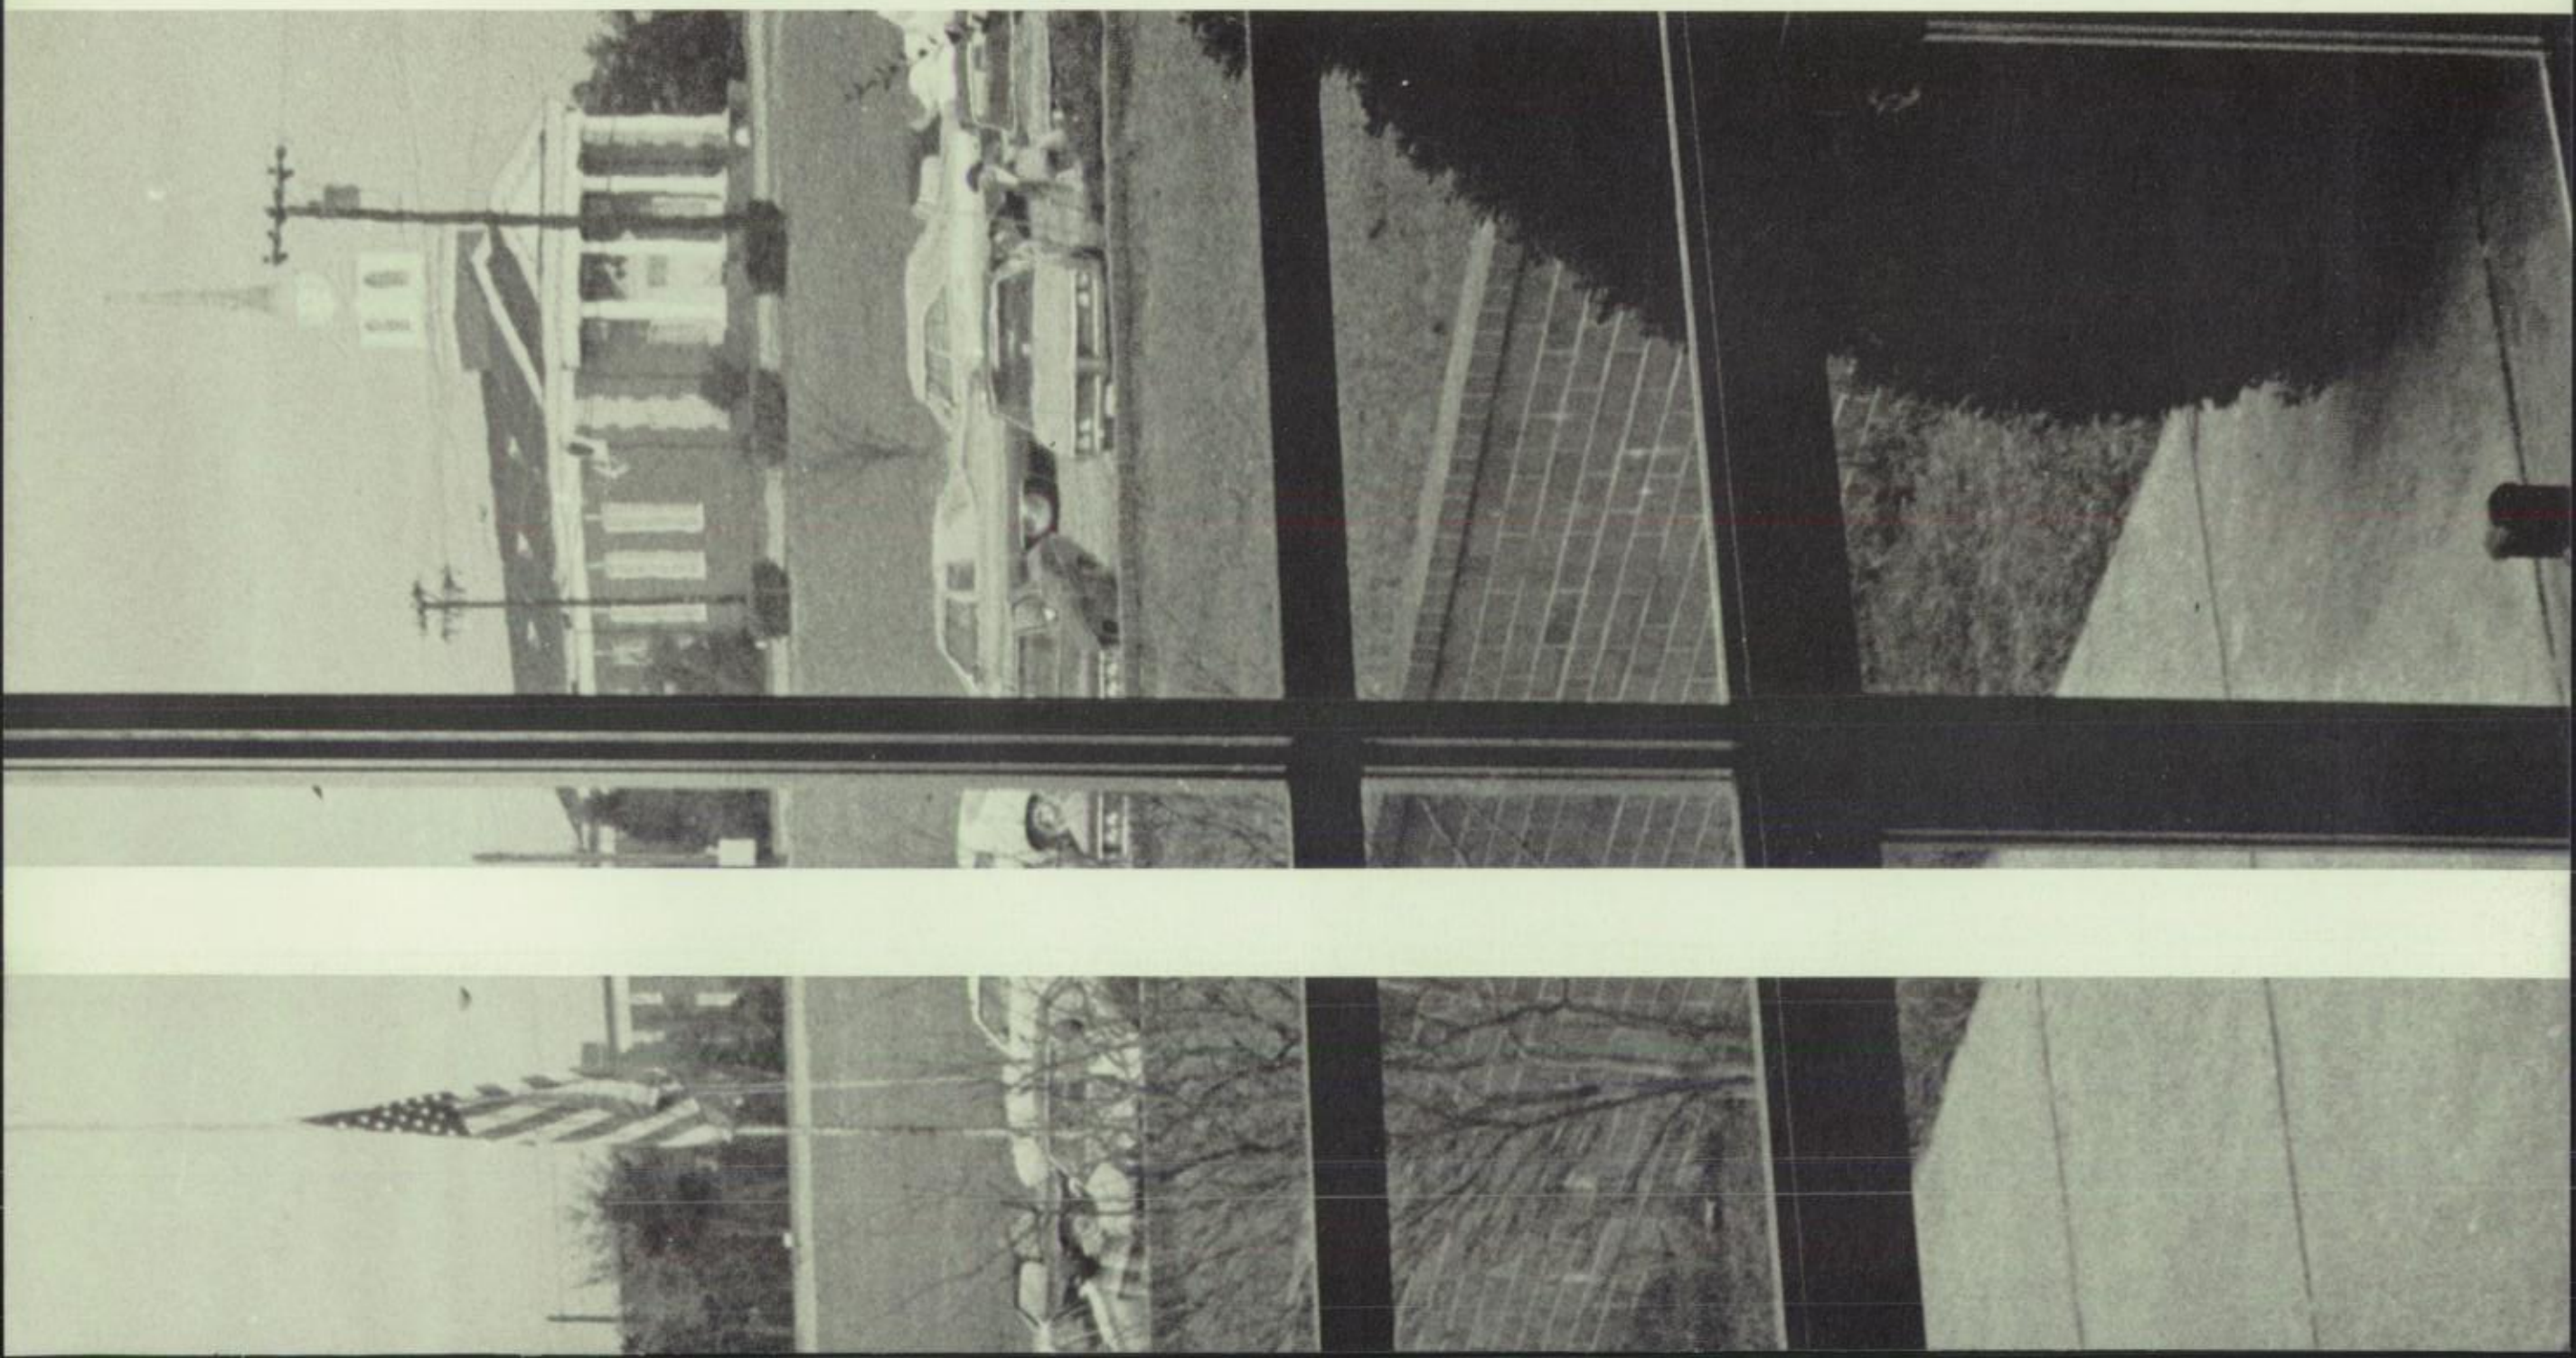
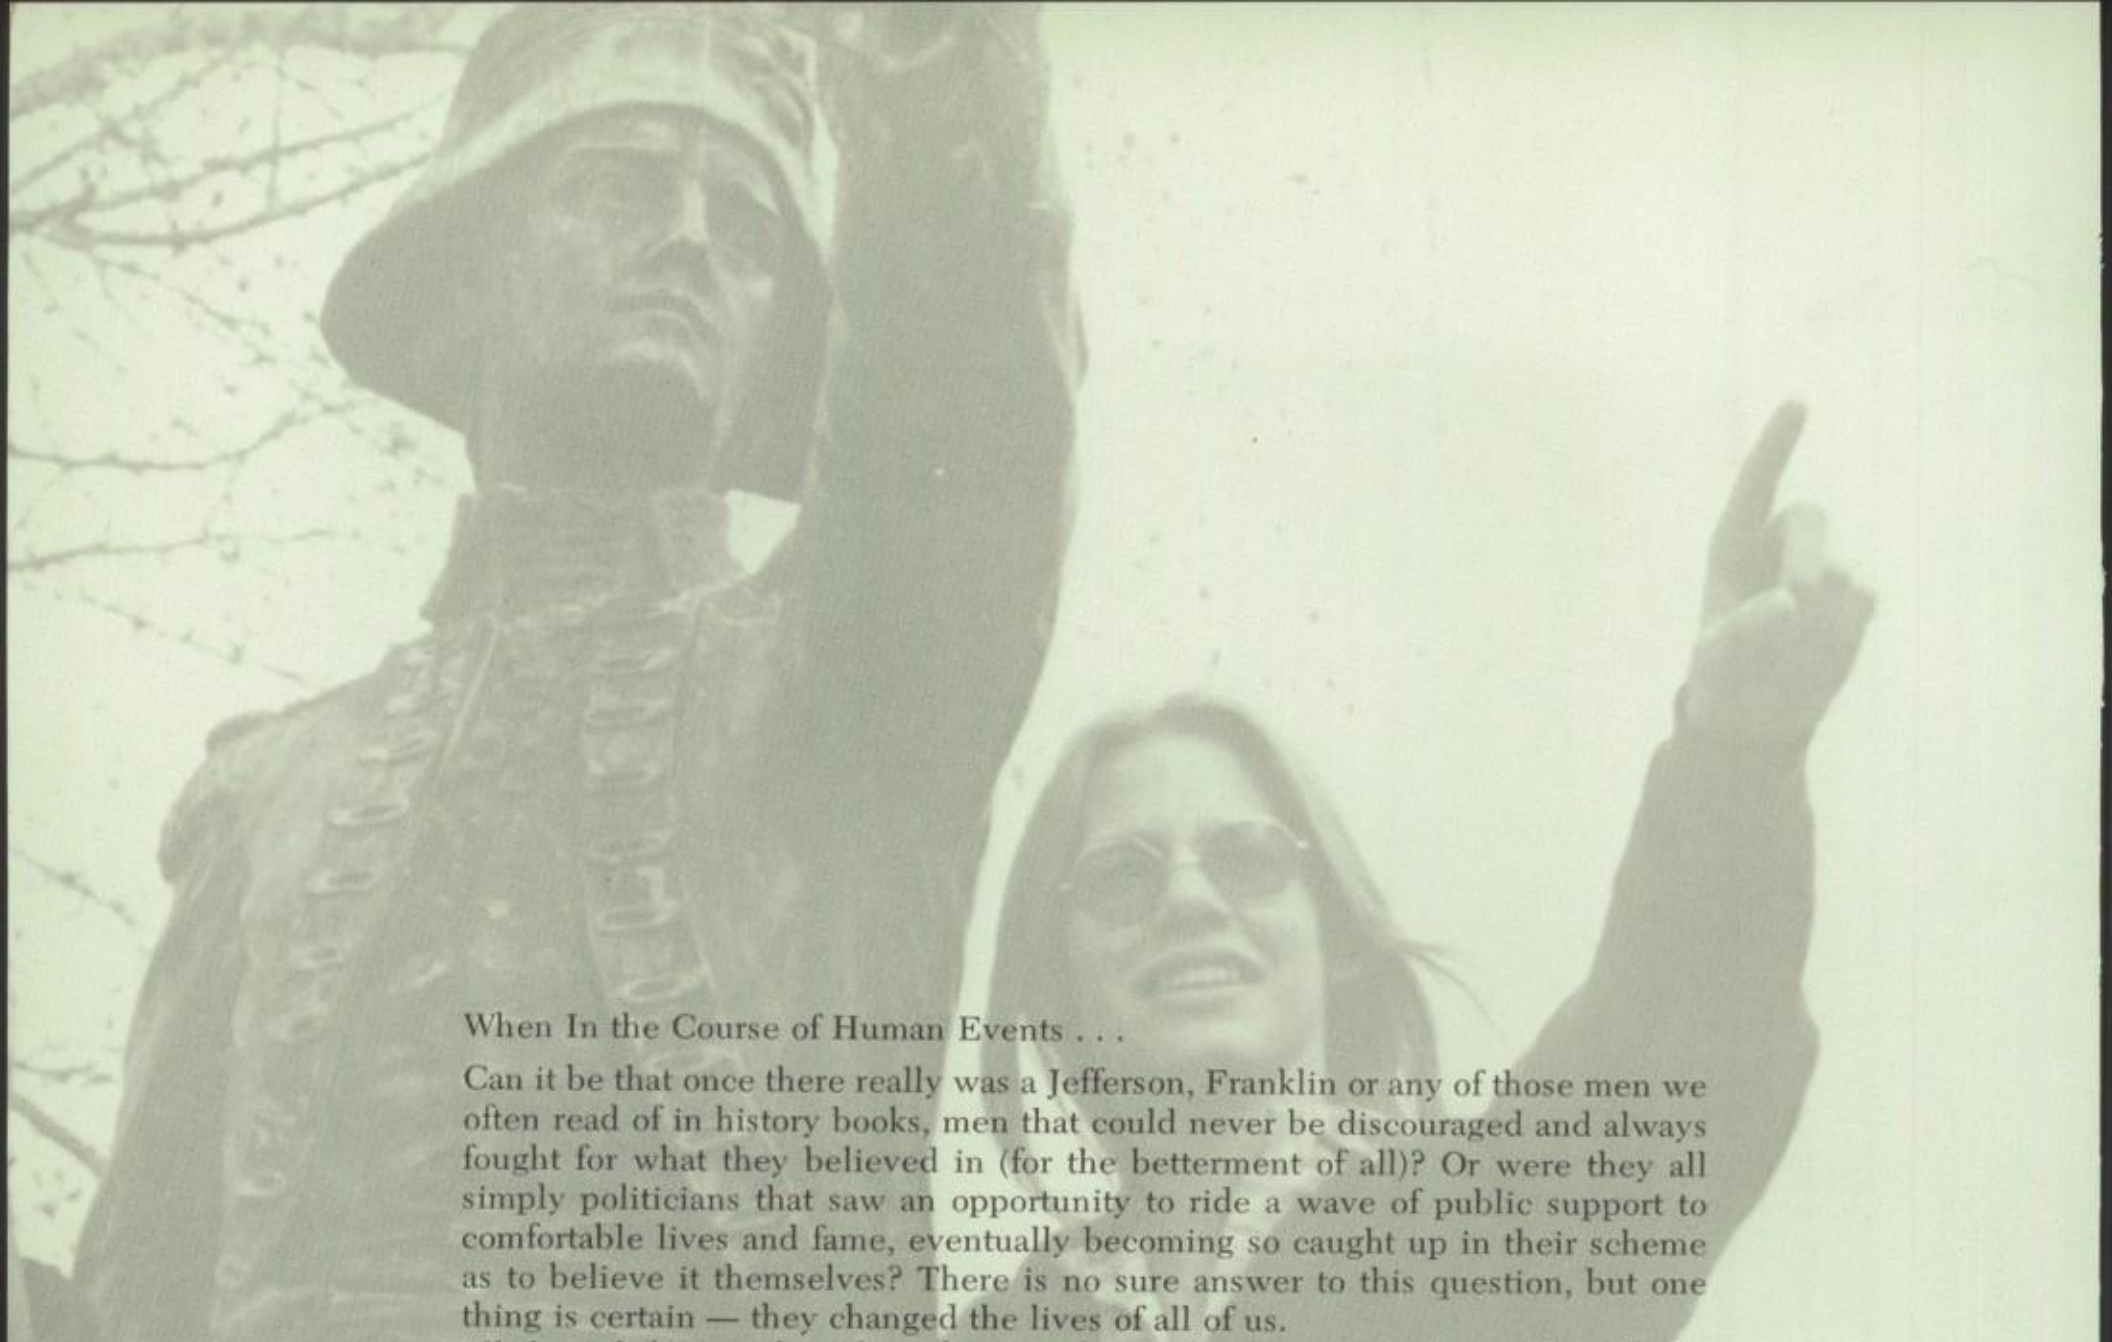
Conclusion





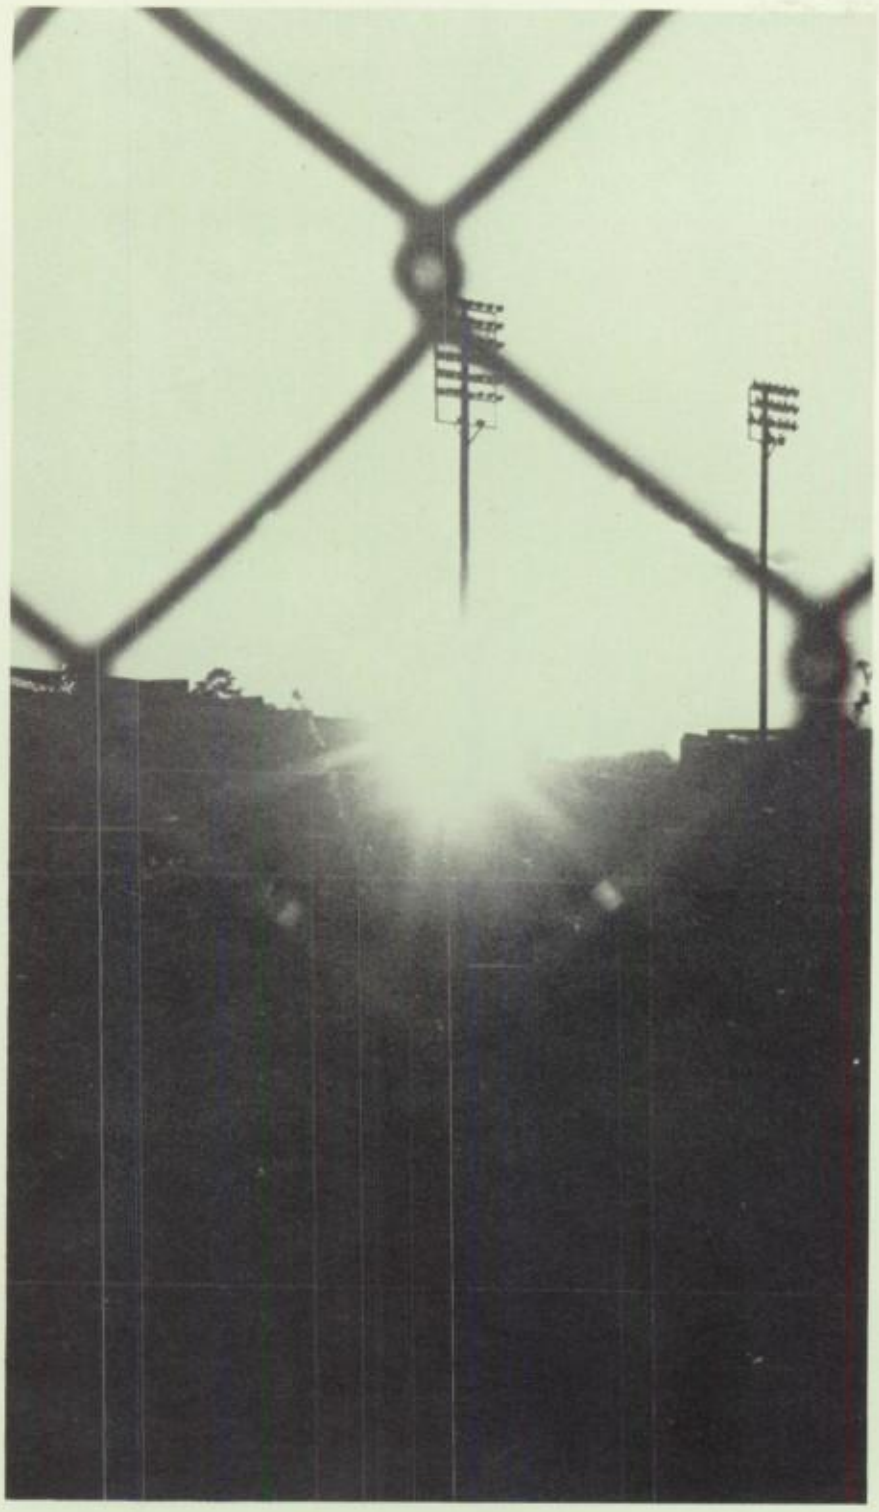
When In the Course of Human Events . . .

Can it be that once there really was a Jefferson, Franklin or any of those men we often read of in history books, men that could never be discouraged and always fought for what they believed in (for the betterment of all)? Or were they all simply politicians that saw an opportunity to ride a wave of public support to comfortable lives and fame, eventually becoming so caught up in their scheme as to believe it themselves? There is no sure answer to this question, but one thing is certain — they changed the lives of all of us.

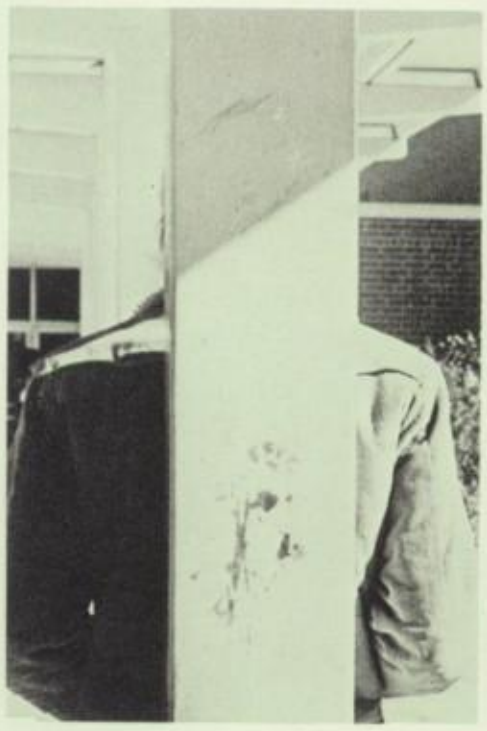
All through history there have been such people, dreamers that would settle for no less than to watch their dreams take the form of reality. To be sure, there will always be such people. But, to take in the beliefs and ideas of others lightly is to limit one's own creative thoughts and abilities. There is comfort in going along with the crowd, but satisfaction in the fullfillment of one's own goals.

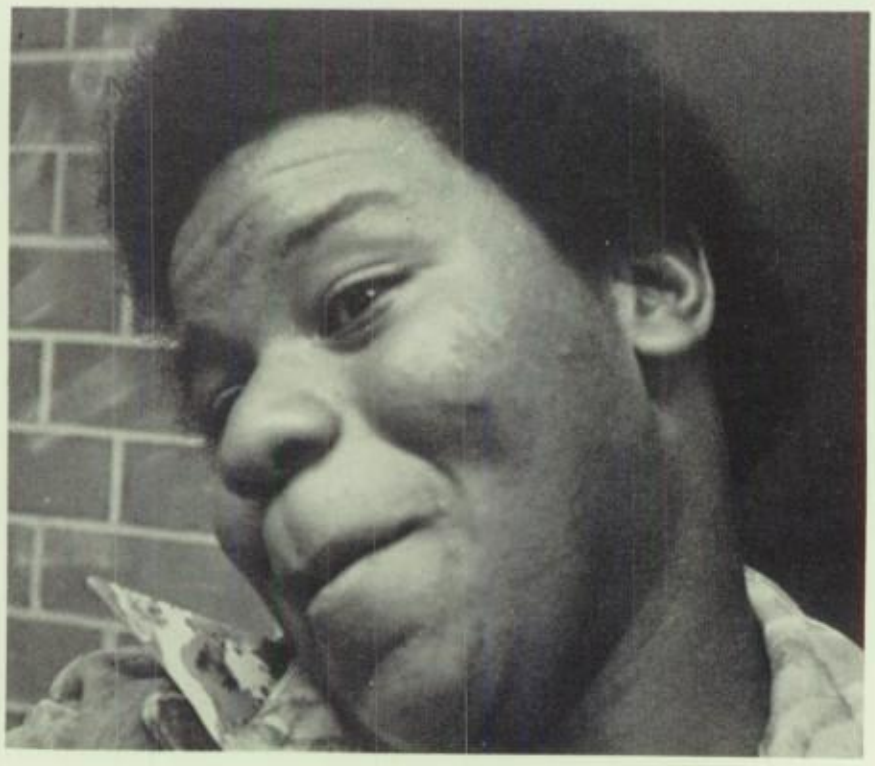
This is not to say that the past two hundred years have been a mistake; indeed this country has seen as a great success by nearly all concerned. It is simply to testify to the credits of self-satisfaction, creativity, and change in the current flow of human events. It is to say that individuals, groups, associations, and corporations all stand to profit immensely, if only mentally, from the works and talents of all around them.

— Richard Boseman



In this course of human events, we form history in everything we do. We set the examples by sounding our actions across the centuries. These events form the traditions of yesterday and today, and the mirror that reflects tomorrow.





There is a word for people that are special to you, people that you can always turn to, no matter what, and know they'll be there to listen and help. These people became known as "friends" because the word "love" had already been used.

Producing the 1976 Aquila was not an easy job as we tried to relate the yearbook to the bicentennial as well as keeping it related to the school. After considering the time spent and problems solved, we feel that the staff needs to be thanked for a job well done.

First of all, we would like to thank Mark Covil and Alex Pressley for the time you spent in producing the sports section. Both of you did a great job.

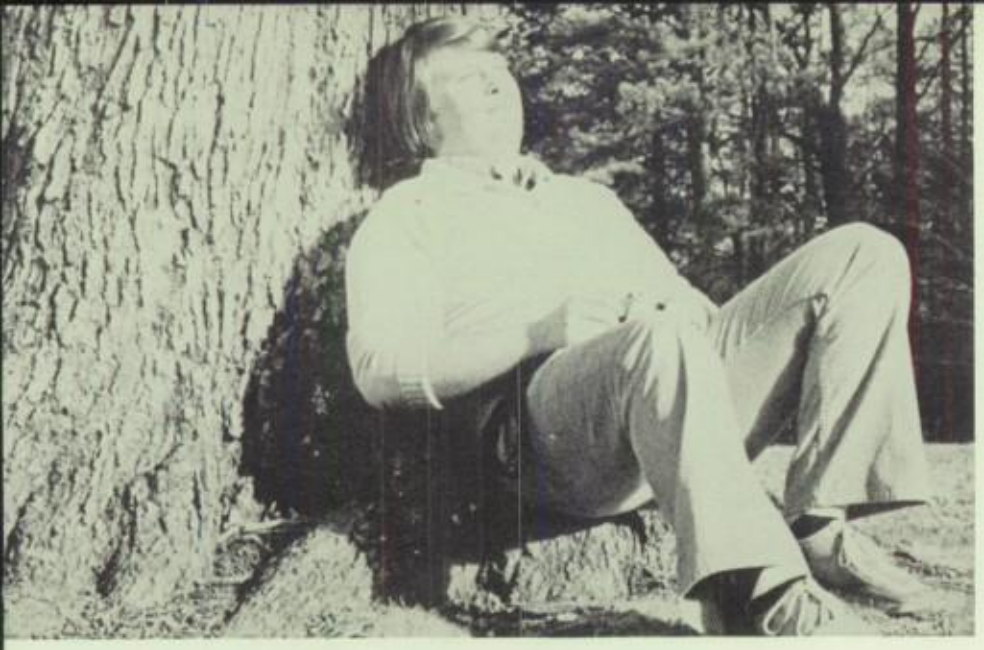
Thanks to Janet Woodard for your work on the sports and faculty sections. Your time as well as your hard work was greatly appreciated.

Many thanks to Patricia Gambill for your long hours spent on proof reading, writing, and typing copy. Also thanks to Richard Boseman who gave Patricia a helping hand. Without these two the yearbook would not have been the same.

Thanks to Myla Young for your great job on the academics section. Your work is greatly appreciated.

Thanks to Kathy McDonald and Mr. Bonardi for handling our business matters. Not everyone would take on this big task.

Thanks to Susan Martin for your work on the Junior, Student Life, and Club Sections. Your work was greatly appreciated.



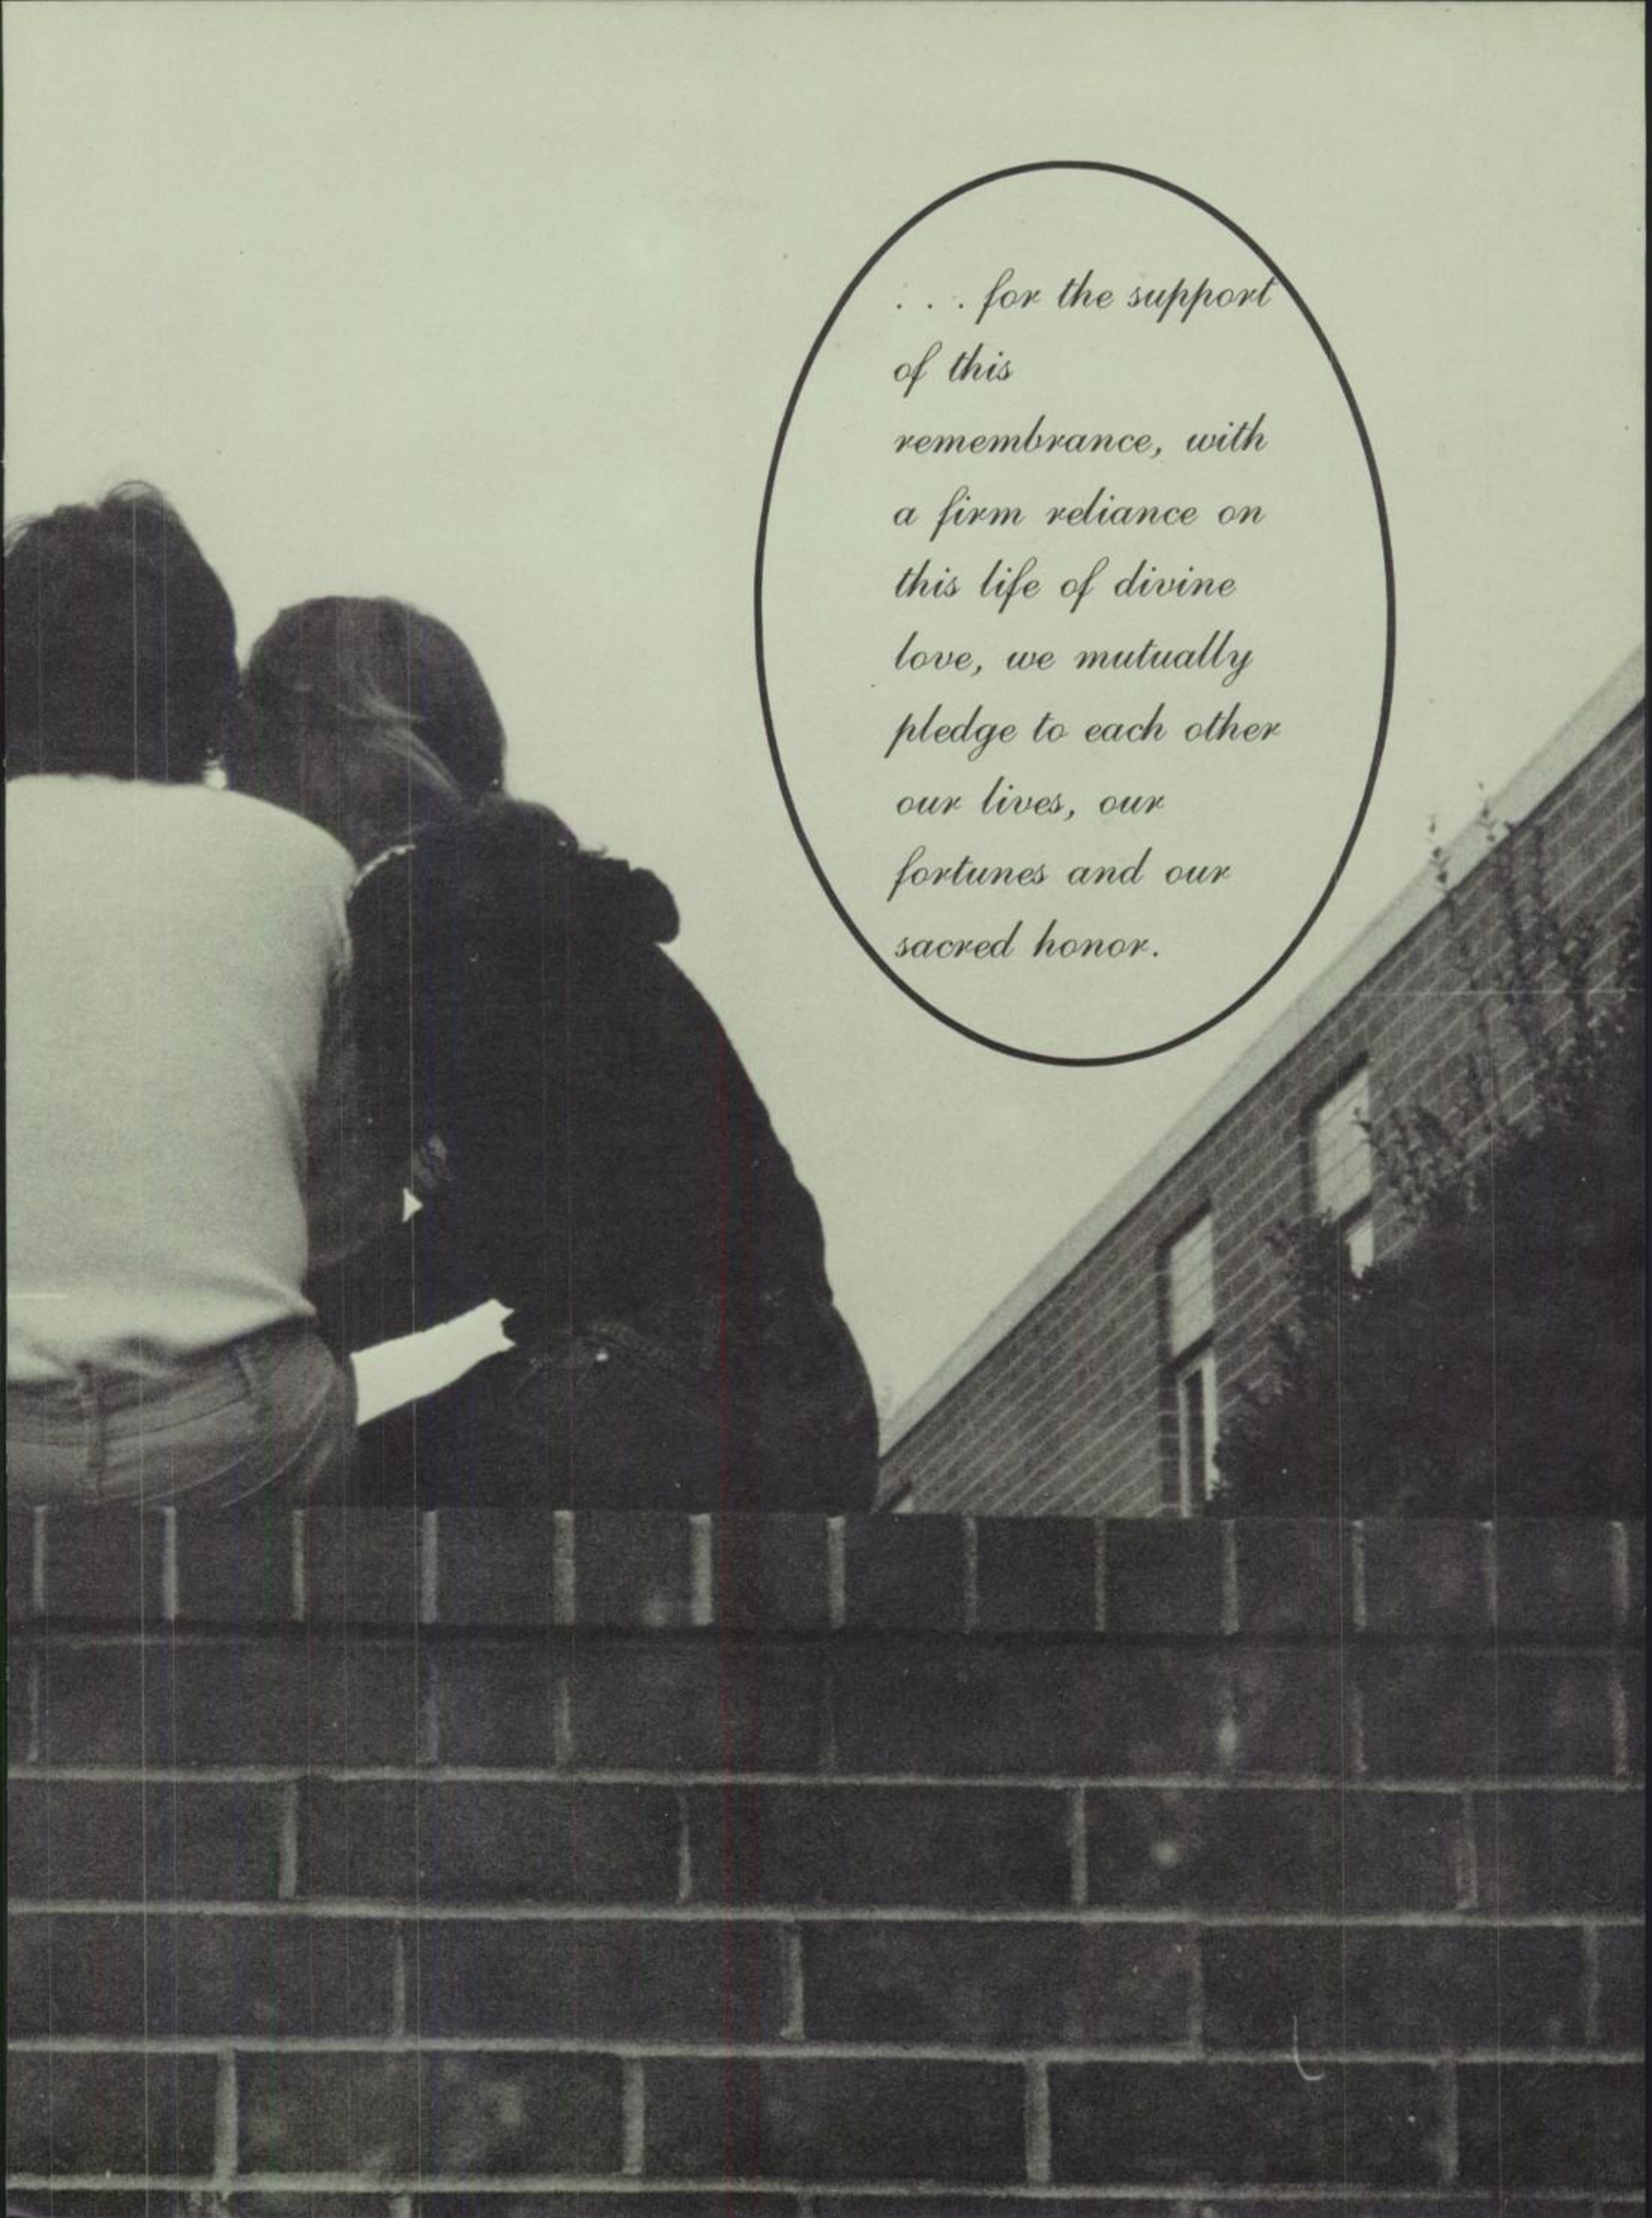
Special thanks to Joey Davis for your many extra hours of hard work as our staff photographer. Without you we would have never met our deadlines.

Thanks to Tammy Lane for your dedicated work on the sophomore section, along with your many new ideas.

Thank you Pam Jackson and June Turner for your work on the club section. Your clowning around at times helped brighten up the entire staff when things were going wrong.

Gail Fisher, Bonnie Pegram, Dan Norris, Dottie Baucom, Teresa Curtis, Jill Craddock, Bobo Gamble — these people were taken in 2nd semester to train for next year's staff. We are very grateful to them for helping us out with typing, taking pictures, and running errands.

Last, but not least, we would like to thank Mrs. Johnson, our advisor. Without you to answer our questions and solve our problems we would never have made it.
Cindy Clemmer
Brenda Jackson, 1976 Editors



. . . for the support of this remembrance, with a firm reliance on this life of divine love, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

Rosalind, I don't really have that much to say but, that you are a very sweet girl and someone who I can really talk to about everything. Although we go to different schools we still have maintained a solid friendship. I hope it will last forever. We still have as much fun together as we did when we were at Dillespie. Even if we rarely see each other or talk to each other.

I really missed you and your wise advice this year. I wish we didn't have to go to different schools then I could see your ugly face every day. (Just kidding Smile ☺) Seriously you are a very crazy but loving girl you are kind, sweet, and generous I hope you will stay that way forever & ever. You will go very far in life if you do. Don't let that go your (big jug)!! I wish you the best of everything especially the (boys) (Just kidding) I hope you will get what you want out of life, you deserve the best I mean it.
